The Rotary fireworks extravaganza all set for November 5!

by GEM REPORTER

COME what may – apart from serious gales – the Rotary Club of Barry's 'Fireworks Fiesta' will take place on Wednesday, November 5.

The annual extravaganza is one of the most popular dates in the town's calendar, with thousands of people descending on Island and town vantage points to enjoy the spectacle.

Robin Pitcher, president of Barry Rotary Club, told The GEM that organisers hoped it would be "even better" than last year.

"Once again, with the invaluable collaboration of Barry Town Council and the Vale Council, the Rotary Club of Barry is delighted to bring local people an exceptional evening of fun and fireworks at our 41st Fireworks Fiesta on November 5.

"We will be holding it whatever the weather brings, except, perhaps, gales – so please ignore any rumours to the contrary."

THREAT TO 'GOUGE OUT' VICTIM'S EYES One-year sentence for pregnant Penarth woman

AN eight-months pregnant woman broke down in the dock at Cardiff Crown Court when she was sent to a young offender institution for a year for attacking a young model and stealing her mobile phone, writes AJ SICLUNA.

At one point, said prosecutor Tracey Lloyd-Nesling, Lauren Simpson (19) had threatened to gouge out the eyes of her 18-year-old victim.

Simpson, of Cornerswell Road, Penarth, pleaded guilty to causing 18-year-old Derryn Gaiger actual bodily harm, and theft.

Judge Neil Bidder QC described Simpson as "a very violent young woman" who had caused the victim to suffer an utterly terrifying experience that she will never forget. Miss Lloyd-Nesling said that on August 8 last year, Miss Gaiger was walking home in Barry Island, accompanied part of the way by a friend. Simpson appeared with a man and a woman and asked for cigarettes.

'Solar farm in village totally unacceptable'

WITH reference to the proposed solar farm at Treos, the scheme originally presented was perfectly acceptable to me, as it was located at a suitable distance from the village.

Solar power is another string to our energy mix, but unfortunately it was discovered that the local grid would be unable to accept such a large energy input.

Another much smaller scheme was then proposed, but to make this more financially viable cost savings had to be made.

The only saving

Whose opinion counts most?

IT'S difficult to find evidence of a time - anywhere in the world - where the views of an organisation representing 7,000 experts were pitted against the second hand opinions of some people who used to live with a country's leader.

Yet that's exactly what recently happened in Wales. Readers of this newspaper may be aware that the British Medical Association - which speaks for doctors across Wales - recently warned Labour's Welsh NHS is facing "imminent meltdown" and requires an independent inquiry. A warning you would think that the First Minister should treat extremely seriously.

The response will surely be remembered for some time to come.

Good citizens

ON Wednesday, October 1, my father was walking along Colcot Road, Barry when he fell badly, resulting in a broken hip, and a number of passers-by stopped to offer assistance and to reassure him.

We were very grateful to all who took their time to stop and, in particular, a lady who went out of her way to let us know of the incident.

Thanks to you all.
R Davies, Barry.

available was to shorten the length of the 11KV cable connection to the grid. This could only be achieved by moving the site a lot closer to the village, with all the problems of noise, visual impact, disturbance and access to the site of heavy traffic during installation.

Access to the site is now within the village. The new scheme is, therefore, totally unacceptable to many of the residents most affected and, hopefully, will be rejected by Vale of Glamorgan Council in its current form.

During the 25-year life of the scheme, surely the cable cost would become insignificant? H Austin, Treos.

Council is doing a great job attracting new players to Barry, but, please...

'Don't forget old town favourites!'

A GLASS half empty or half full? This is one way of looking at Barry... While we are constantly reading positive news from various sources, regarding the town, if you take a closer look, it could also be all doom and gloom.

Many would agree with the suggestion that Barry needs more entertainment and accommodation - but this week we've been told of the loss of entertainment (pleasure park's potential closure) and accommodation (Mount Sorrel to become a residential development?)

How can the situation be on the up with things like this happening? (We've had Gavin and Stacey - but that's gone too and what is left? Nothing).

All the good the council has done in regenerating the East Promenade etc has been lost by the killer blows the two potential closures will bring.

You simply can't blame the private owners of these attractions for their demise - after all, when uncertainty crept in regarding the pleasure park a few years ago, our council set up a temporary fairground on the promenade. Some years later, that remains, and the pleasure park's future now looks doomed!

Again, the company who took on Mount Sorrel have tried; those who pass by regularly would have noticed the buses of OAPs visiting for short stays - but also that family visitors are all staying at the Premier Inn site at the Waterfront.

So, yes council, you are doing a great job attracting new players, but don't let this be at the expense of seasoned favourites. (Name and address supplied)

Private firms and the NHS

YOUR edition of October 9 included two letters concerning the health (or otherwise) of the NHS. From personal experience, I am sure Mr Delaney's view that private companies cannot enhance the NHS is far from the truth.

I am an NHS patient and for the last three and a half years have been dialysed three times a week in Cardiff in comfort (including my own individual TV, and tea and biscuits) by a private German company. I assume, but do not know, that my treatment by the private firm costs less than if it were carried out by the NHS.

This seems an admirable result, which should be extended to other health areas.

Of course, if it is not cheaper, the Welsh NHS negotiator who signed the contract should be shown the door!

The possibility that the NHS in Wales does not have the funds/manpower to carry out the treatment has occurred to me, in which case the use of private companies becomes essential. Glyn Ray, Barry.

SAD LOSS OF BARRY JEWEL

I WAS shocked and saddened to learn that a planning application is currently with the Vale of Glamorgan Council and Barry Town Council to replace The Mount Sorrel Hotel with a block of flats.

Having attended many functions here over the years, including this year, I have been pleased to see how busy the hotel is and how well the public rooms and bar area on the ground floor have been improved. The staff are lovely and nothing is too much trouble. Regrettably this wonderful group of staff will now be out of work and an excellent venue, well used by both the local community and tourists, will be sacrificed for yet more flats.

If I only had the money I would buy the hotel myself, as, undeniably, if the bedrooms were upgraded to the standard of the ground floor, it would be an even bigger jewel in Barry's crown.

Kim Sims, Barry

LOCAL MUMS-TO-BE ARE URGED TO HAVE FLU JAB

MUMS-TO-BE in the area are being urged to have a flu jab this winter to protect their unborn child.

Nia Wyn Davies

She did not hesitate to be vaccinated again this year now that she is expecting another child.

Nia, an ABMU

neuropsychologist, said: "This is my second pregnancy. I had the flu jab with my first. He's now 16 months old. I didn't have any symptoms from having the flu jab. I had it around the six months mark, which is where I am at the moment with the second baby."

"I'm having the jab now for the same reasons I had it the first time, which is to protect myself and the baby from developing any complications if I was to contract the flu virus."

Final reunion visit to the Canal Zone

I ORGANISE 14-day return visits to the Egyptian Canal Zone, where I served in the 1950s along with thousands of other personnel.

I know that many service people who live in The GEM's circulation area were stationed there during the troubled times of the 1950s.

Many of our service personnel died and are buried in the cemeteries that we visit: Ismailia, Fayid, Moascar and tel-el-kebir.

I will take photos of any friends or loved one's graves, if any of your readers would like me to (complimentary).

Also, if any GEM readers would like to join us on our last group, I still have a few places left and will send full details to any readers who served in the zone, or have friends or relatives buried out there who may be interested in joining our group visit in April/May 2015.

We will be visiting Cairo and staying at a hotel in Ismailia overlooking Lake Timsa and visiting other places in the Canal Zone.

I am limited to 25 places on this reunion visit, due to the fact it is still a military restricted area - spouses/families (who must be over 20 years of age) are welcome.

This will be our last visit to the Egyptian Canal Zone, due to age and health reasons.

Pensions: 'Let people decide'

TORY peer, Lord Digby Jones, came on my TV to tell us that, since we are all living longer, the increase in pensions paid must mean that, eventually, we shall all run out of money.

It is quite frightening that someone who cannot distinguish the difference between money - a currency token which circulates in order to speed up transactions - and the wealth and resources of a nation, is allowed anywhere near the economy.

If other Conservative gurus in government think in this confused mindset, it is no wonder that we are in trouble.

How much of the nation's resources should be shared and expended on OAPs, depends upon the voting decisions of the generality of citizens, who, one day, will be elderly.

Although 84 per cent of the nation's resources is in the possession of seven per cent of the population - which is the pattern preferred by Tory voters, and opposed by Labour voters - we should be able to find enough food and warmth for our own mothers and fathers if we try, and should scorn Digby's warning.

If demolition of Mount Sorrel Hotel takes place it could be a case of back to the future!

RIGHT: The Mount Sorrel Hotel has been a part of the town's heritage since the 1890s.

by GEM REPORTER

A landmark Barry hotel could be replaced by houses.

The Mount Sorrel Hotel began life in the 1890s as townhouses owned by affluent local people. Later the properties merged and it became the destination we know today for tourists, businessmen and local people attending celebrations and special events.

The company that owns it, UK Holiday Group, believes it is no longer economically viable.

Paul Bennett, the managing director of the UK Holiday Group, said: "We bought the hotel out of receivership in February 2012 but have been haemorrhaging money.

"We are an experienced holiday group and felt that we could do something with this hotel and turn it around. But we have now come to the conclusion that it is not viable.

"We have tried everything but we have made £200,000 trading losses with occupancy rates of 30 per cent."

UK Holiday Group now wants to demolish the building and has lodged an application with the Vale Council so that houses can be built on the site - in fact, a return to its past.

Local Barry councillor Ian Johnson said the news was "very disappointing".

"The future for hotel accommodation in Barry is clearly on the Waterfront, like the Premier Inn, or on Barry Island. We know that somebody who spends a night in Barry spends five times as much as a day visitor - on food, drinks and events.

"That is why it is so important that we market Barry as an overnight location, close to both Cardiff and the airport, as well as a family resort.

"During the Summer I asked council officers what work they were doing to attract new hotel operators to Barry. With the Mount Sorrel closing, that work is more important than ever."

Local historian Tom Clemett told The GEM: "The houses date back to the 1890s - one was owned by a Dr Neil and was called Mount Sorrel after where he had previously lived."

The hotel continues in business and is taking overnight bookings and bookings for Christmas and New Year parties. For more information, go to the following website:

www.mountsorrelhotel.co.uk; email: reservations@mountsorrel.co.uk; or telephone: 01446 740069.

WOMAN JAILED

Miss Gaiger said she didn't have one, and turned out her pockets to prove it, revealing that she had a Blackberry mobile phone.

Miss Lloyd-Nesling said: "Simpson grabbed her and repeatedly punched her to the face. She put her hand over her mouth to stop her calling for help, held her throat and head and threatened to gouge out her eyes."

Soon after, she punched the victim again and eventually ran off.

Miss Gaiger was taken to hospital and treated for facial injuries.

Simpson was later identified on Facebook, and was arrested in Amherst Crescent, Barry Island. She had changed her clothing since the incident, denied being responsible, and set up a "false alibi", said Miss Lloyd-Nesling.

The victim later stated she had been "absolutely terrified," didn't want to leave her home and suffered from flashbacks.

She pointed out that she was a model and had lost work temporarily, and also suffered depression, arthritis and insomnia.

Simpson was said to have convictions for shoplifting, battery, causing actual bodily harm and wounding with intent.

Her counsel, Stephen Jeary, said a suspended sentence was suitable because she was due to give birth next month.

Said the Judge: "This offence was committed in an isolated area. You recognised your victim's fear, assaulted her repeatedly and threatened to gouge out her eyes. It was a mean offence, and you even stole her mobile phone."

The delay in bringing the case to court, he said, had been "wholly reprehensible".

He added: "I regret the fact that you will give birth in custody."

The Rhoose WI branch plans for Remembrance Day

AT the October meeting of Rhoose WI, the president, Jenny Reed, reminded members that the Rhoose Remembrance Day parade will take place on Sunday, November 9.

The WI will walk behind their banner and a wreath will be laid at the War Memorial. As always, after taking part in the service, WI members will provide tea, coffee and biscuits for the congregation.

Those walking in the parade are advised to gather at the bottom of Wesley Avenue (opposite the Post Office) at 10.30am, after which they will proceed to the Community Hall at Stewart Road.

The meeting was told that members of the craft club are working hard to complete their Christmas decorations in time for the Federation Christmas Tree Festival at Margam Orangery on December 3 and craft club members were asked to bring all completed decorations to the November meeting.

Also, fees for the coach for the trip to Bath on December 11 are now due, and Susan Grant reported that the names of those wishing to attend the Pantomime at the Memorial Hall on December 19 must be submitted at the November meeting. Business concluded, the president informed everyone that since the speaker for the evening was indisposed, member Jill Jones would give a talk on events in Kenya in the early 1940s.

This was the case of the death of the Earl of Errol who was murdered near Nairobi in 1941. The case is still unsolved and members were asked to speculate as to who they thought had committed the crime.

The talk was well received and giving a vote of thanks, Susan Grant said that she, among others, was now going to watch the film White Mischief, which dramatises the event.

The draw to find the winner of the GFWI Denman Bursary was made. The successful applicant, Sandra Barnes, will now be able to stay at Denman and pursue a course of her choice.

The winner of the monthly competition was June Pallister and the raffle was won by Val Watts. The next meeting will take place on November 6 when Rosemary Scaddan who will demonstrate the 'Magic of Scarves'. Members are asked to bring a lightweight scarf to the meeting. Visitors and new members welcome. JJ

Fireworks extravaganza

Robin continued: "Pendragon Fireworks, based here in Wales, promise that this year's display will be better even than the last.

"People can come along and enjoy themselves in what promises to be a wonderful evening of fun, fireworks and music. The fireworks will start at 7.45 p.m. prompt, but to avoid the last minute rush, we suggest arriving from 6p.m.

"People will be able to enjoy the delights supplied by the Island traders and the funfair before and after the main event."

Parking is available in the main car parks for only £2 a vehicle.

Limited disabled parking on Frairs Road will also be available.

Robin said: "We implore everyone attending to donate at least £1 into the collecting buckets to assist the future funding of this event. If everyone gave at least £1, we could ensure the continuation of the event, and help deserving causes so much more.

"Over the years, this has been a very popular event and traffic delays are to be expected, so where possible please car share and consider these alternative forms of transport."

The GEM will be running a feature on this special event with more details on Thursday, October 30.

Penarth man (19) smoked cannabis in town centre

A CANNABIS dealer spotted smoking the drug with a group in the centre of Penarth, has been sentenced to a community order for one year at Cardiff Crown Court, writes AJ SICLUNA.

Recorder Ian Murphy QC said that such behaviour in a public place in the middle of the day was "incredibly naive". Shaeman Averies (19) of High Street, Penarth, had been convicted by Cardiff magistrates of possessing cannabis with intent, and theft of a wallet by finding, and had been committed to the Crown Court for sentence.

Prosecutor Tim Naylor said that on July 2, the police officers were in Victoria Place, Penarth, and spotted a group of young people and smelt cannabis.

Averies had on him five bags of the drug, a grinder and £49.

At his home, they found more cannabis and a wallet, which Averies said he had found.

He admitted buying the cannabis for £220 "on tick" and supplying friends with a profit of £60.

Mr Naylor said he accepted that he found the wallet and kept it.

His solicitor, Anne Griffiths, said he accepted his behaviour was opportunistic.

Foolishly, he had wanted to make cash. He dealt, he said, only with friends and wished to fund his own habit.

"There was a degree of immaturity," she said.

The Recorder described the offence as serious and said that his behaviour had been nothing less than incredibly naive.

He was ordered to carry out 160 hours unpaid work and the drugs were ordered to be destroyed and the cash forfeited.

COUNCILLORS' SURGERY

THE Labour Vale and Town councillors for Buttrills and Court wards in Barry, Bronwen Brooks, Pamela Drake, Jeff Evans and Stuart Egan, will be holding their regular monthly advice surgery this Saturday, October 18 from 10am-11.30am in the meeting room of Barry Library, Kings Square. No appointment is necessary.

PENSIONERS' PLEA FOR A MURCH ROAD CROSSING

THERE was a good turn-out for a public campaign to improve pedestrian safety along Murch Road.

Dozens of residents turned up, under the watchful eye of PCSO Singh, with placards calling for a safer crossing. Plaid councillor Val Hartrey thanked the Wednesday Afternoon Club members and local residents for their attendance.

Many community councillors also supported the event, including Margaret Randall, Janie Jones, Chris Franks, Keith Hatton, Mike Hartrey and John Fanshaw.

Coun Hartrey said: "Residents and local councillors have been trying to get a crossing here under the 'Safe Route to Communities' scheme for some time.

"The Murch shops are divided by this busy dangerous road. We have excellent shops such as the fruit and veg shop, the newsagent along Castle Drive, and an excellent butcher and the Post Office located at Camms Corner. To get from one side to the other entails crossing the very busy Murch Road.

"This situation will be exacerbated when the medical centre opens at the top of Murch Crescent next year. This will create more traffic. "We will keep up the pressure to improve matters," she promised.

Butlins plaque unveiled on Island

THE Mayor of the Vale has unveiled a plaque to commemorate the Butlins holiday camp, which was on Barry Island from 1966-1986.

The plaque adorns a wall on the new seafront garden at the Eastern promenade on Barry Island. Former Redcoats and other staff attended the ceremony, including 90-year-old David Simpson from Barry, who was the original entertainments manager at the camp.

In the photograph, above, with the Mayor and Mayoress are Stuart Kingsley-Innes (on right) and David (Tony) Collier.

Internet lessons open up a new world for the elderly

THE Older People's Commissioner for Wales' team has visited a digital inclusion project that is helping people in Barry to get online.

The team joined the group at the Community Enterprise Centre on Skomer Road - one of a number of sites where Communities First run the regular classes in the town.

They are held every Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday and have helped over 100 people, a mixture of jobseekers, who need help with writing their CVs and looking for work, and older people, who are learning how to order shopping or take part in internet forum discussions about their favourite football teams.

The Commissioner, Sarah Rochira, said: "For many older people, access to ongoing opportunities to develop and learn new skills is an essential element of maintaining their health, independence and wellbeing.

"Through teaching older people how to use the internet, the work of Communities First Barry is helping to reduce loneliness and open up a new world to older people.

"They are now able to increase contact with friends and family that they may not get to see very often and use the internet to improve their knowledge on a wide range of subjects."

Barry Comp sends help to Sri Lanka

Mrs Morgan spending time getting to know some of the children in year-3.

DURING the summer break, Mr Alun Jones, Mrs Maria Morgan and six year-12 students travelled to Sri Lanka to support the work of the charity, HelpLanka.

While in Sri Lanka, the team spent week-day mornings teaching English in a rural school. Our students were responsible for giving lessons to children aged between five and 11 years old.

The students were able to provide the children with variety of fun and engaging lessons, while the students themselves developed new skills and gained confidence during the two weeks of teaching.

Mr Jones was also able to use his expertise as a PE teacher to provide sports lessons, along with a donation of cricket equipment. The principal of the school was thoroughly delighted with the pupils' opportunities to have sports lessons, as this is something that is very difficult to include in the curriculum, due to lack of resources.

Mrs Morgan also provided the school with ICT lessons to pupils and provided some basic training for the teachers, using the one PC that they had in the school.

The school was also given numerous teaching resources, including a laptop that had kindly been donated by Miss Rowe.

The children at the school thoroughly enjoyed the experience of the visit and tears were shed when it was time for our departure.

Afternoons were spent in various locations. Children's homes and orphanages were visited and the team provided face painting, arts and crafts sessions, games and sport.

Tristan Jeans spent several hours teaching children how to create loom band bracelets, which they were highly captivated by, and Nathan Cogbill became quite adept at badminton.

The team was able to donate toys, books and equipment to these homes and all these materials will certainly be put to good use, as their own resources are so limited.

A large collection of hearing aids were also donated to a school for deaf children.

The team also had the opportunity to discover some of Sri Lanka's most beautiful tourist attractions. A particular favourite was the elephant sanctuary on to Kandy, a family-run facility which is the only non-profit organisation working with captive elephants in Sri Lanka.

The students also enjoyed the opportunity to watch the Sri Lankan cricket team play a one day international against South Africa at the R Premadasa Stadium, Colombo.

They had the opportunity to soak up the lively atmosphere and meet the local people in these welcoming and cheerful surroundings.

The students also gained some cultural experiences when they visited the Golden Temple of Dambulla, the Lions Rock at Sigiriya and various museums about Sri Lankan main trade produce.

Magnificent seven share their inspiring local stories

Seven inspirational local heroes are coming together to share their stories, to mark the re-launch of Barry IdeasBank on October 20, at 6.30pm in the Memo Arts Centre, Barry.

The free event showcases their efforts to protect their community or to make Barry an even better place to live and work:

Penni Carr devises creative ways to make it fun for babies and children to learn Welsh;

David Cole tells of the heroic efforts of Barry Town United football supporters, who rallied the local community and the wider football family to take on the might of the Welsh Football Association to keep their club alive;

Friends of Barry beaches organise monthly clean-ups of Barry's beaches; Kate Long of the Memo Arts Centre who is working to create a new state-of-the-art cinema for Barry; Stonehouse Mugalavai enables Barry people to help an orphanage in his Kenyan homeland; Gareth Sweeney has helped create a local radio station for Barry; and Elwyn Toozer led a campaign to save his local bus service from closure.

The event is hosted and organised by the Barry IdeasBank, run by the Flexible Thinking Forum, a not-for-profit social enterprise.

Organisers are hoping the Barry IdeasBank will become a world-class example of what is called 'crowdsourcing' and 'open source innovation' for local communities.

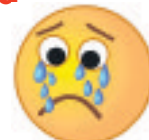

"Our seven speakers all have great personal stories to share to create an entertaining and inspiring evening," said Andy Green of the Flexible Thinking Forum.

"There are many good people doing good things for our community. We are working through the Barry IdeasBank to inspire and connect like-minded people, to create an even more powerful community working to create a better future for itself," Andy added.

Busy start to new camera club season

BARRY Camera club started its 2014-2015 season on Friday, September 5 at the St Francis Centre and had a very interesting first month.

There was a presentation of printing techniques by Rob Owens, AFAIP, DPAGB, AWP and several new members were welcomed.

Week two saw the visit of Steve Littlewood, who showed a fine selection of prints and projected images of his shots taken at the recent Royal International Air Tattoo at Fairford, in Gloucestershire.

Steve uses very long telephoto lenses to take such sharp close-ups and demonstrated the equipment he uses, which includes a novel shoulder harness to steady the long, heavy lenses.

Steve also showed a selection of very impressive shots of birds in flight and finished off with a selection of shots taken at Porthcawl in the extreme weather we saw earlier this year.

Steve's passion for the subject and commitment to quality was highly appreciated by all members, who agreed that this was one of the best presentations they had ever seen.

On week three, we welcomed Margaret Salisbury FRPS, APAGB, EFIAP, a widely published and highly-respected photographer who gave us a wonderful presentation.

Margaret is known as the 'Flying Dragon' for the amount of worldwide travel she does in pursuit of her photographic work, and showed us both prints and projected images of a wide range of subjects including landscapes, urban, domestic and industrial subjects taken in the many countries of the world that she has visited.

The members particularly enjoyed her pictures of family life in Ghana and other West African countries, which really brought home the contrast between African and European lifestyles.

Last week was competition week, and the visiting judge for the September competition was Phil Ray, CPAGB. Phil had quite a task due to the impressive number of entries, including some from the newer members. As a judge, he is not known for being too generous in his marking and as expected, the wide range of marks reflected that.

However, he did make one award of the maximum of 20 points for a lovely digital image submitted by Ken Mayled.

Competition results were: Monochrome print: first, Rob Owens, 'Channel Crossing', 20 points; second, Brian Trego, 'To The Sea', 18; third, Glen Porter, 'Helvelli', 17.

Colour Print: first, Roy Carr, 'Dawn Over Wenvoe', 19 points; second, Roy Carr, 'Loch Duich Reflections', 18; joint third, Rob Owens, 'Siesta Time', 17; Frank Clelland, 'Vapour Trails', 17.

Digital Image: First, Ken Mayled, 'Colour', 20 points; second, Brian Trego, 'Wast Water Storm', 19; third, Steve Everett, 'The Sad Puffin', 18.

Congratulations to all who were placed, especially Rob Owens, Roy Carr and Brian Trego who all achieved two placings each.

October's planned programme includes a talk on the use of Adobe Photoshop by Allen Lloyd, an evening dedicated to monochrome work presented by Gareth Martin, a photo battle with Cardiff Camera Club, a talk on panoramas presented by Harry Gardiner and the judge for the October competition will be John Ridgewell.

New members are particularly encouraged and will be made welcome, with a programme being prepared especially for the new and less experienced photographers to allow them to gain more proficiency and satisfaction from their hobby.

Barry Camera Club meets every Friday evening from 7pm-9.30pm at St Francis Millennium Centre, Porth-y-Castell, Barry Garden Suburb, Barry, CF62 6NX.

We are a very friendly organisation and new members of all experience and skill levels are always welcome to attend with no obligation to join.

372 (BARRY) SQUADRON AIR TRAINING CORPS NEWS

Air Cadet's exhilarating challenge!

Joe Bailey (left) near the Challenge Wales boat.

RECENTLY, Air Cadet Joe Bailey from 372 (Barry) Squadron swapped the air for the sea when he boarded the 72 foot 'round the world' challenge Wales racing yacht for a week on the ocean waves.

Challenge Wales is a wholly-owned project of Maiden Voyage, a charity dedicated to providing young people aged between 12 and 25 years old, and the young at heart, of Wales a chance to develop their self-esteem and life-skills of team working and communication through the experience of offshore sailing.

Joe sailed from Pembroke to Conway via Ireland, under skipper Andy Hall, along with other Air Cadets from south Wales and was completely involved with the sailing by winching the sheets and halyards, taking the helm and raising the sails.

The cadets experienced a disciplined routine where they relied on each other for the smooth running of the venture.

Joe said: "It was an exhausting but amazing experience, which everyone enjoyed. I totally enjoyed this trip as everyone worked well together as a team. I also took the helm throughout the trip. At times, we reached speeds of 10-15 knots, which was really exciting."

Sailing with Challenge Wales is just one of the amazing opportunities which Air Cadets can experience. Joe would have worked hard within a team in a demanding environment; however, he had fun and learnt new skills during his week away.

The Air Cadets are now preparing themselves for a busy team working and challenging couple of months including, flying, gliding, shooting, sport, Duke of Edinburgh expeditions and adventurous training exercises.

The 372 (Barry) Squadron has vacancies for boys and girls between 12-18 years old (from school year 8).

The Squadron parade on Mondays and Wednesdays (7pm-9.30pm), behind Adams Funeral Parlour. Phone 01446 747734, email oc.372@aircadets.org or visit the Squadron website www.372squadron.org.

EU PARLIAMENT AN EMOTIVE SUBJECT!

OVER 70 members were present at Sully U3A's October meeting to hear the guest speaker, Elizabeth Sweeney, European Parliamentary Information Officer in the UK.

She has worked for the European Parliament for over 30 years and is currently based in their London office. She outlined how the single market for the freedom of movement of people, goods, services and capital was formed in the aftermath of World War II, and said that since Britain joined in 1973, it remained an emotive subject as to whether we should belong or not.

Elizabeth outlined the criteria for EU membership, what the European Parliament does and its structure, what it legislates on and what is legislated on by national parliaments.

She explained how EU regulations are directly applicable to all 28 member countries and no transposition into national law is necessary. However, EU Directives are transposed into national law, the implementation method being chosen by national parliaments.

She also talked about its budget and funding, parliamentary elections and the responsibilities of MEPs.

It was a big subject to cover in an hour and chairman Jean Bispham, thanked her for doing so so clearly and for answering questions.

Sully U3A meets on the second Thursday of the month in The Old School, Sully, at 2pm when new members are welcome. On November 13, the speaker will be former Bluebell Girl, Rachel Brennan.

Fascinating tale in the wake of Bounty mutiny

THE speaker at last week's Barry Men's Forum was Prof Alastair Couper, whose talk was entitled 'Wake of the Bounty'.

Dr Couper's interest began with his work as a hydrographer, where he had spent many years surveying the waters and the islands in the Pacific Ocean; the fact that his occupation was the same as Captain Bligh's, heightened his curiosity.

This interest instigated his investigation into the 'mutineer on the Bounty', on which he has written a book. During his research he found in Australia, a diary of one of the mutineers, a boatswain's mate, Morrison, who made notes at the time; and during his subsequent imprisonment in Newgate prison, he compiled a full and detailed report.

On his return to Britain, Capt Bligh's report, even though it now appears it was very biased, captured the imagination of the public. The Admiralty could not ignore a mutiny. They sent Capt

Edward Edwards in HMS Pandora with a crew of 135 to capture the mutineers.

On arrival at Tahiti, Capt Edwards immediately 'clapped in irons' crew members who remained on Tahiti, even though they surrendered and welcomed the Royal Navy. Morrison records he had almost completed building a ship to return to Britain.

At the Admiralty trial, little heed was given to Morrison's account and he was condemned to death by 'hanging from the yard arm'.

Prof Couper concluded by saying that history does not record what happened to Morrison.

Today, Thursday, October 16, Mr Don Llewellyn is talking about the 'Llandow Air Disaster'. The following week, October 23, Rosemary Scadden will be speaking on the Solomon Islands. New members are very welcome.

The Forum meets at Trinity Presbyterian Church Hall, Aberystwyth Crescent every Thursday morning at 10.15am.

Residents raise concerns at Dinas Powys meeting

Some of the residents meet councillors over Fairtrade tea and coffee.

LOCAL issues raised by residents at the Dinas Powys councillors' coffee morning included Cross Common Bridge replacement, transport to the new medical centre, housing matters, maintenance of St Andrew's cemetery and local streams.

Plaid councillor Chris Franks reported: "We are very grateful to residents who came along and talked to us about issues of interest in the community. We explain that the Vale officers are in discussions with the landowner's agents regarding the land adjacent to Cross Common Bridge. The Vale is seeking to purchase land running alongside the stream to construct a new junction to the new road. "The Vale aims to complete principal negotiations within six weeks, we are told. This centre, we understand residents would avoid a new bridge. The existing one would then be closed to traffic. It is frustrating that negotiations are in taking such a time. Meanwhile we have been assured that the existing bridge structure is not deteriorating and is safe to use. "We were delighted to welcome the news that there are moves to reinvestigate the Fairtrade movement in Dinas Powys. "Regarding transport to the new medical centre, we understand residents' concerns and we are working with the Vale Council to see what options are available. This is a very real issue that needs to be tackled," Coun Franks added.

Cadet leaders on course to become rowing coaches

NINE local Sea Cadet and Scout leaders have begun training to become British rowing coaches.

Representing three of the Barry Sea Scout groups, as well as Sea Cadets groups from Barry and Porthcawl, they will train on Barry Docks through the winter, hoping to qualify by the start of the boating season.

The course has been organised by Barry Youth Watersports and Nigel Vick, the course organiser, said: "This course brings together the main users of Barry Docks and will mean that there is quality coaching available for youth organisations that want to get out on Barry Docks."

"The Sea Cadet rowing boats are a great way of getting on the water. I'm grateful to them for making these available."

MAYOR SUPPORTS NEW DEMENTIA PLAN IN THE VALE

THE Mayor of the Vale of Glamorgan Council, Coun Howard Hamilton, has launched the 'Dementia Supportive Communities' initiative in Barry, the first of its kind in the Vale.

The pilot forms part of the three-year dementia plan which was launched earlier this year. Along with another in Cardiff, the pilot in Barry will run for a year, after which the initiative will be rolled out in stages to the rest of the Cardiff and Vale areas.

Melanie Andrews, operations manager for Alzheimer's Society in south east Wales, said: "It is great to hear of the positive work happening in Barry."

"The programme isn't about creating experts, it's about helping people understand a little bit more about what it's like to live with the condition and then turn that understanding into action."

The initiative involves a number of public, private and third sector organisations working together and taking part in dementia awareness sessions, which have been developed by the Alzheimer's Society.

The Mayor added: "I am delighted to offer my support to this initiative and would urge the residents and local businesses in Barry to attend the awareness sessions, so that those who are affected by dementia, along with their carers, are given the support and encouragement they need."

THE organ at St Curig's Church, Porthkerry requires significant restoration to extend its playing life; this unique instrument is a World War One memorial with a brass plaque attached to it naming the men of the Parish who did not return from the War.

It is often said that the 'Battle of Waterloo' was won on the playing fields of Eton so could the Battle of the Somme in the first World War have been won on the playing fields of Cowbridge School?

Several of the names on the plaque were old boys of Cowbridge School with its strong tradition of sports and athletics.

It is, therefore, apt that in order to raise money for this restoration, Graham Loveluck Edwards from Rhose has decided to run in the Dublin Marathon which takes place on October 27.

Marathon bid to fund organ restoration

Graham formerly served with the Royal Green Jackets (light infantry regiment) in the 1990s.

He used to run in 5k and 10k competitions for Chepstow Harriers. The challenge of raising funds required to restore the organ and the Lythgate at the Church inspired Graham to have another crack at running a marathon.

So far, the parishioners at St Curig's have sponsored Graham to the tune of £300, but a lot more is needed and we are appealing to the generosity of your readers. Donations can be made on line at <http://www.gofundme.com/d4g7eg> or you can follow the links from the 'Parish of Porthkerry and Rhose' facebook page.

'The Vale is not for shale', says Plaid councillor

Coun Ian Johnson with Vale anti-fracking campaigner, Sian Elin Jones, and the crowd at last Saturday's Frack Free Wales rally outside the National Assembly.

HUNDREDS of people attended Saturday's anti-fracking demonstration in Cardiff Bay, organised by Friends of the Earth Cymru and Frack Free Wales.

They included people from the Vale who heard speeches from campaigner Donal Whelan from St Hilary, Lord Dafydd Wigley and Plaid Cymru AM Bethan Jenkins.

Also present was Plaid councillor Ian Johnson, who said: "Plaid Cymru supports a moratorium on fracking until it can be proven that it is scientifically and environmentally safe."

"However, shale gas is a fossil fuel which can only be used once, so it makes no sense to invest money in recovering gas from under our feet when we should be investing in endless renewable energy, such as the huge potential for tidal energy from the Severn Channel from tidal lagoons or a tidal reef."

"But the message from last week's rally was that the Vale is not for shale."

Two rambles in late autumn sunshine

PENARTH and District Ramblers recently enjoyed what appeared to be the last of the gorgeous autumnal sunshine with two walks, one in the mountains of the western Brecon Beacons and the other closer to home.

Robin and his spaniel Pepper set off with their small group in unexpectedly good weather across the Afon Llia and along the Beacon's Way to join part of the long distance Roman road of Sarn Helen, before avoiding the many shakeholes on the open moorland on their journey to climb Fan Gyhyrch, where soldiers were taking part in an army exercise carrying huge 55lb rucksacks!

After descending, their next target was Fan Nedd and still being accompanied by soldiers racing against the clock, they climbed steadily to the summit at 663 metres to enjoy the surrounding views. Then it was all downhill and across uneven, undefined paths though tumpy grass which caused a few spills, before they eventually caught up with the dog and made it back to their start, still in one piece.

The local walk attracted a group of 15 and dogs Bracken and Bronte, who with leaders Kryss and Pam set off in hazy but warm sunshine along the cliff path from Penarth to Lavernock Point, to hear the story of Marconi's first radio message being transmitted in Morse code across the open water to Flat Holm in the Bristol Channel way back in 1897.

Tramping up Fort Road to Lavernock Nature Reserve, the cliff path led them to the ruins of the old World War Two gun site classed as an ancient monument, before they continued to the forward observation and rangefinder post set on the cliff top above St Mary's Well Bay, with its glorious views over the Bristol Channel and towards Sully Island.

Reaching Cosmeston Country Park and passing the medieval village, fields led them into Cogan Wood then on past the lower lake, before an uphill climb through houses led back to their start point via the disused railway line which is now a cycle track.

On October 18, meet at 9.45am at the Barry Waterfront for an eight-mile moderate walk taking in part of the Merthyr Heritage trails; contact Barbara on 01446 794313.

On October 19, meet at 9am at Cogan Leisure Centre for a 10-mile mod/hard walk to Tor y Foel from Llangynidr; contact Robin on 029 2051 4051.

VALE MP's VIEWPOINT

How voluntary groups can improve services across Vale of Glamorgan

HOW will services we receive from the local authority in the Vale look in five years' time? A very difficult question to answer, but there is no doubt that a change in how services are delivered will be necessary.

On a weekly basis, I meet with charities and third sector organisations in Barry and the Vale that are providing wonderful services to the most vulnerable in society.

The majority do so on very limited funding and rely on the support of volunteers that make a huge commitment to helping others.

I believe further support of these bodies can allow them to help our local authority maintain, and in many cases improve, services they currently operate.

The list of groups that work in the community is endless; Scouts and Guides provide focus for young people, Age Connect provide care and support to older residents – from nail cutting to friendship groups; cancer charities support families and patients.

Rotary, Lions and Round Table raise thousands for local causes. Atal Y Fro does so much work in protecting vulnerable women – while Vale Ways encourage walks and look after foot paths throughout the area.

The outcomes of their activities stretch much further; bringing people together which prevents loneliness, reduces pressure on social services and the NHS. The benefits are endless.

I also visit local boxing and martial arts clubs that often rely on private fundraising alone but do so

The Citizens' Advice Bureau helps people in a range of difficult circumstances and many are well supported by the Vale

Centre for Voluntary Services.

All these groups make a huge difference with very little money from the local authority. I strongly believe that we can do more to support these groups and help some of our most vulnerable people.

Why doesn't the council form stronger partnerships with these groups?

I have previously highlighted the poor funding settlement that we receive. When I last calculated the data, Cardiff receive £123 more per person than we do, in Barry and the rest of the Vale.

The Welsh Government has delivered a further reduction of 3.4 per cent on last year. This is a poor settlement and shows that Cardiff Bay is not giving us a fair slice of the cake yet again.

This settlement will require choices to be made, but I would like to encourage the local authority to embrace the collection of small bodies providing services across a large deep seam in the Vale of Glamorgan.

They don't shout about it – but I know what incredible work they do, because I hear their stories.

The people I meet want to help support the council and have real expertise in their field. I am doing what I can to get people together to ensure services can be maintained.

A solution for tougher funding settlements is to use the expertise that exists locally whether that is inside or outside the authority.

Let's push services closer to the users – not further away through grand restructures. I meet the people every week that want to help, and they can do so much good in the community – if we free them up to do so.

Bryn Hafren Comprehensive School

Age 11 - 16 Girls' School - Co-Educational 6th Form

MERTHYR DYFAN ROAD, BARRY, CF62 9YQ - Tel. 01446 403500

OPEN EVENING: Thursday 23rd October 2014 6pm - 8pm

OPEN MORNINGS: Monday 20th, Tuesday 21st and Wednesday 22nd October from 9am - 1pm.

The staff and pupils of Bryn Hafren welcome parents and children to our Open Week . . .

Our open evening will be held on Thursday 23rd October, 6pm-8pm. There will be a formal welcome by Head Teacher, Mr Tyrone Davies at 6pm after which you will be given a guided tour of the school.

There will be displays of pupils' work in all subject areas and members of staff and pupils will be present to answer your questions. The open mornings on 20th, 21st, 22nd of October are a wonderful opportunity to see the school in action during the working day and to experience the quality of education and care of which the school is so proud. All prospective parents are welcome, no appointments necessary.

Examination Success:

In 2014 the percentage of pupils gaining 5 or more GCSEs at A* to C was 91%. Mr Davies, the Headteacher was delighted by the academic performance of the pupils including an incredible 96% of pupils who gained at least 5 GCSEs A* to G. Many of these successful pupils have now joined our sixth form whilst the others now have a better chance of gaining either employment or a place at college. In 2014 at Key Stage 3 our Y9 pupils achieved the best set of results this school has ever had with all subjects achieving results above the Welsh average for similar schools in Wales.

Curriculum:

Bryn Hafren offers a rich, broad and balanced curriculum with lessons being taught in modern high specification rooms. The school has recently completed the refurbishment of the Drama and Music departments which includes a larger Drama studio, two newly equipped Music rooms, three practice rooms as well as a music computer room. In addition the Design Technology, Food Technology, Art, Media departments and Learning Resource Centre have also been refurbished and re-equipped. The last 2 years have seen further development of our exciting Hair and Beauty facilities that allow pupils to gain a wide range of vocational qualifications, in superb on site facilities.

The Welsh Baccalaureate is studied by KS4 and KS5, giving the pupils additional and vital skills as they move into further education or employment. The provision of extra-curricular activities is an outstanding feature of the school and extends pupils' learning experiences.

Pastoral Care:

The school is very proud of the pastoral care given to all pupils. We strive to create a happy, working atmosphere where all pupils are valued and encouraged to fulfil their potential. The Year Heads and Form Tutor system offers good support and guidance in a caring community. Progress is monitored and individual pupils are encouraged to achieve academic success in a fully inclusive environment. The school works closely with parents via Form Tutor and Parents' Evenings through the year. In addition, the school welcomes individual contact with parents as required.

Science - One of the newly refurbished Science Laboratories

Astro Turf, Fitness Suite and Pool - Bryn Hafren's sporting facilities are outstanding.

ABOVE: Awards ceremony - All pupils are regularly rewarded for good attendance, effort improvement and excellence in lessons.

Residential experiences include language and culture courses as well as outdoor pursuits. Pupils recently visited Disneyland Florida.

ICT suite - A huge investment in ICT has created excellent opportunities for all pupils.

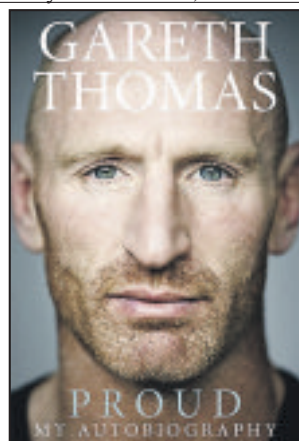

ABOVE: The Performing Arts department produced a highly successful production of 'Annie', with pupils from all year groups involved.

The Learning Resource Centre is available for pupil use before school, break and lunchtimes as well as after school.

In 'Proud My Autobiography' Gareth Thomas tells the story of his life including the inner torment he suffered until he revealed the truth about his sexuality.

Gareth Thomas 'wings' in to book festival

The Cowbridge Book Festival is delighted and proud to be hosting Welsh international rugby star and hero to many, Gareth Thomas, who will present his book 'Proud My Biography', at St. Quentin's Suite, at The Bear Hotel, on Thursday, October 30.

by STELLA CHEESEMAN hero, a sporting icon, he had captained Wales and the British Lions – rugby gave him everything, except the freedom to be himself.

His is the story of a man with a secret that was slowly killing him, a secret that might devastate not only his own life but also the lives of his wife, family, friends and teammates.

Gareth's fear that telling the truth about his sexuality would cost him everything he loved almost sent him over the edge.

The deceit ended when Gareth became the world's most prominent athlete to come out as a gay man. His story transcends the world of sport to tell a universal truth about feeling like an outsider, and facing up to who you really are. He is a dedicated supporter of the charity Childline and frequently visits schools to talk about bullying.

Award winning author Michael Calvin is currently chief sports writer for the Independent on Sunday. His last book, The Nowhere Men, was voted the Sports Book of the Year 2014 at the British Sports Book Awards.

All proceeds from festival events are donated to Leukemia & Lymphoma Research and The Noah's Ark Appeal Children's Hospital of Wales.

Details of all events can be found on the Festival Website: www.cowbridgebookfestival.co.uk. Tickets are available online via the Festival Website; or TicketlineUK; or from David Barnes (Dry Cleaners) High St., Cowbridge; or Nickleby's Book Shop, Pound Field, Llantwit Major. There's still time to buy your tickets for the Chris Bryant MP event for October 24.

Patagonia bound... All for Velindre!

BBC weatherman Derek Brockway has signed up to trek Patagonia in 2015 to raise funds for Velindre Cancer Centre.

To kick off his fundraising, he will be leading an eight-mile walk on Sunday, November 30, from his home town of Barry, through the old docks along the coast to the most southerly point on mainland Wales, Rhosneig.

It will take in sandy beaches, an old watch tower, an Iron Age settlement and many of the places featured in the hit TV series Gavin and Stacey.

Derek said: "Velindre is a wonderful charity and helps so many people, including a few of my friends, family and work colleagues, providing vital treatment, care and support. The number of people suffering from cancer is on the increase; none of us know what's around the corner and I want to do my bit to help."

"I am fascinated by Patagonia, its history and its connection with Wales and as a keen walker, I've always wanted to visit this special part of the world. Plus while I am there I will have the opportunity to practice my Welsh, say shwmae and hwyl am y tro!"

"I am really looking forward to following in the footsteps of the first Welsh settlers 150 years ago. The trek is going to be a challenge and I will need to get fitter over the next 12 months but more importantly I hope to raise loads of money for Velindre, so it can continue to help people in the future – and with more research, hopefully find a cure for cancer. My walk on November 30 will be the start of my fitness regime and I hope lots of people sign up and join me."

People can show their support for the campaign by visiting: www.velindrefundraising.co.uk/victoryovercancer

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Branch Manager Phil Powell feels that it's all about service. "Our product is simple. If your double glazing is steamed up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole."

Cloudy2Clear service the Vale, Bridgend, BCT and Porthcawl areas and Phil is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. "The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated."

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Phil a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Confiscated illegal fishing gear is put to good use!

FISHING tackle confiscated from illegal anglers, is being given a new lease of life – after being donated to the Bridgend and District Fishing for the Disabled Association by Natural Resources Wales.

It is now being put to good use by the Association, which offers adults and children with disabilities a safe environment to learn to fish with specialist instructors.

For Natural Resources Wales, it's a small triumph in the battle against illegal fishing. Paul Frodsham, Fisheries Enforcement Officer from Natural Resources

ABOVE: Fisheries enforcement officer Paul Frodsham donates equipment to club secretary Byron Morgan.

Wales explained: "We regulate fishing so that so the sport which is loved by so many can remain sustainable and can continue to be enjoyed by future generations."

"However, there are still those who think they can flout the rules and fish without a licence – and it's these people who are jeopardising the sport for everyone. While the fight against illegal fishing continues, it's been great that we've been able to give something back to the community and donate the equipment to a worthy cause.

"The great thing about fishing is that it's a sport for life, which can be enjoyed by everyone. We hope that the many visitors to the club will enjoy the opportunity to learn a new skill, while at the same time meeting new people and getting out and about in our wonderful environment."

Ralph Merchant, Chairman of the Bridgend and District Fishing for the Disabled Association said: "We're often short of equipment, so the donation has been very helpful and we are looking forward to putting the equipment to good use. We help adults and children with a range of disabilities by teaching them how to cast a line, reel it in and net fish. Some will learn new skills and others will just enjoy a day out – the main thing is that they get to enjoy the experience of fishing."

In its first year of operation, Natural Resources Wales caught 139 individuals committing a variety of offences, ranging from not having a rod licence to illegal netting and foul hooking.

This resulted in successful prosecutions in all but three cases and total fines of £18,468 plus the confiscation of tackle and equipment.

People can report suspected illegal fishing to the Natural Resources Wales 24-hour incident hotline on 0800 80 70 60.

The Bridgend and District Fishing for the Disabled Association provides angling opportunities for over 180 disabled children and adults each year.

It is currently looking for volunteers who can help disabled adults and children learn to fish.

Any anglers willing to volunteer should contact chairman Ralph Merchant on 01656 660683.

Polyphonic choir's 50th anniversary

The photograph (above) was taken in the 1960s. The choir is offering two of the best seats in the house for its performance of Messiah in St David's Hall to whoever correctly identifies the highest number of those in the photograph and its location.

Details of how to take part are on www.cardiffpolyphonic.org.uk/anniversary%20concert.htm.

Grant does what he does best in The Rewrite

HUGH GRANT has been more notable in recent years for his attempts to regulate the press than for his acting roles; however, the English 'king of the rom-com' has been seen onscreen in the likes of Cloud Atlas and heard onscreen in enjoyable animated romp The Pirates! In an Adventure with Scientists!

Grant is now returning to arguably his forte in The Rewrite. Re-teaming for the fourth time with writer/director Marc Lawrence (the romantic comedy genre's version of Scorsese and DeNiro, or DiCaprio).

Grant plays Keith Michaels, an Oscar-winning writer who finds his career in a slump. In order to pay the bills, he begrudgingly goes to work at a college, teaching screenwriting; but amidst the drudgery of work, and his attempts to reignite his writing fire, there may be light at the end of the tunnel in the shape of Holly (Marisa Tomei), a single mother taking classes there...

If you've seen any of the films Hugh John Mungo Grant (yes, that is his real name) has made with Marc Lawrence, then you'll have a pretty fair idea of what to expect from The Rewrite.

Grant has made his name (and attracted a fair amount of critical ire) from these romantic comedies, his particular brand of bumbling English-ness informing the material, and so it goes here.

Ironically, given its title, The Rewrite seems to borrow from previous Grant/Lawrence joints – you have the stand-offish slightly self-satisfied cad from Two Weeks' Notice, a cad who is creative (swap the songwriter for Music and Lyrics for screenwriter here) and who learns to better himself and find peace within – thanks to burgeoning love with the romantic interest (both ... Notice and ... Lyrics).

Throw in some fish-out-of-water shenanigans (also seen in Did You Hear About The Morgans?) and The Rewrite seems to be rewritten from the pair's back catalogue.

Yet despite the lack of originality, the slightly clichéd storytelling and the predictable plot points, The Rewrite does have a certain degree of charm, both in terms of its performances and the seen-it-all before narrative, and is amusing enough to help pass 106 minutes of your life.

Lawrence seems happy to mine Grant's own comedic stylings to deliver the laughs here, and while, predictably, these hang heavily on his furrowed brow, range of facial expressions and withering comments, it's not all that hellish to watch him run through his usual routine.

Whether it's down to Grant's absence from the big screen making the heart grow fonder (and if you find his acting in any way a negative then avoid at all costs), or just that he can execute this material seemingly in his sleep, there's something enjoyable watching him go through the motions – even though we know exactly where we are going to end up; Grant is doing what he does best, and, to be fair, it works.

Lawrence assembles a seasoned cast to back up

Grant, with the irrepressibly perky Marisa Tomei providing both a love interest and a positive counterpoint to Grant's character's slightly soured world view, while the likes of Chris Elliott, Bella Heathcote and the always-watchable pair of Alison Janney and JK Simmons provide decent support.

Lawrence directs the film with a pleasing verve, and his script, while adhering to the rules of romantic comedy, has more than a few digs at the state of Hollywood at present.

While its core message of learning to trust your own voice and being true to yourself feels a little simplistic, it fits within the film, which itself is hardly edgy or strikingly daring.

You can consider that the film's real shortcoming; that it doesn't take a different tack to what you expect, that, to use an advertising slogan, it does exactly what it says on the tin; while that may be a criticism, if the thought of watching Hugh Grant gad about in an inoffensive, faintly amusing comedy sounds appealing, then you'll have no truck with The Rewrite.

VERDICT: A pleasingly slight return to the big screen for Hugh Grant and his own particular brand of comedy.

The Rewrite lacks originality but charms thanks to the efforts of its cast. Grant-haters will only find ammunition in Marc Lawrence's film, but anyone else will be reasonably entertained by its efforts. Enjoyable.

Out of Africa – Bedwas bus is on the way home!

THE Barry-based Cardiff Transport Preservation Group has successfully raised £20,000 to bring a bus built in 1951 back to Wales from a museum in South Africa.

Mike Taylor, chairman of the heritage vehicle collection at The Bus Depot, Barry explained: "At the moment, the former 63-year-old Bedwas & Machen UDC bus, an AEC Regal III, is in the Sandstone Heritage Trust museum in the Orange State in central South Africa.

"The bus has special significance, as it was the last single deck bus built by the Bruce Coach Works in Cardiff, at the former Pengam Airport, back in 1951.

"The bus, a single decker with half cab layout and 35 seats was one of two that were bought by the South East Wales municipality Bedwas & Machen Urban District Council, number 6 and 7. Bus No 7 was bought by an enthusiast but his job took him to South Africa, and he took this bus with him. While in South Africa it was kept at and subsequently sold to the Sandstone Heritage Trust, and they have agreed to let us have it back here in Wales," Mr Taylor added.

Councils call on public to 'have their say' over where the cuts will fall

CUTS to the budgets of Welsh local authorities have meant that both Bridgend County Borough Council (BCBC) and the Vale Council have invited residents to "have their say" on where cuts should be made.

Last week, when the Welsh Government (WG) released details of this year's budget, the scale of the reduction in budget to local authorities became clear.

The Welsh Government insisted that the cuts were due to the cuts made by the Westminster coalition government.

The WG Public Services Minister, Leighton Andrews said that Welsh councils were getting, on average, 3.4 per cent less than last year in real terms.

He said: "The settlement is challenging but is a consequence of the large scale budget reductions being imposed by the UK Government: "The Welsh Government's budget for 2015-16 will be around 10 per cent lower in real terms compared with 2010-11.

"However, unlike England, we have protected local authorities in Wales from the bulk of these cuts over the past five years. Spending on local services in England has decreased by around seven per cent in cash terms, while in Wales it has increased by three per cent.

"I am providing an additional £10 million in recognition of the importance of strong local social services to the long-term success of the health service in Wales and will continue to protect schools funding, in line with our commitment to provide an increase in resources at one per cent above the overall change in the Welsh Budget."

It means that WG cash to the Vale Council will fall from £157.889 million in 2014/15 to £152.507 million in 2015/15 - a fall of £5,382,000. BCBC receives more cash from the WG, and its 2014/15 grant of £195.160 million will fall to £188.543 million - a shortfall of £6,567,000.

The Vale Council reacted by asking residents to play a role in reshaping services across the county by sharing their views on which services they value the most.

The council says that it will need to find savings of £32 million over the next three years. Its 'Reshaping Services Strategy' is an attempt to gain a degree of consensus on where those cuts should fall.

Coun Neil Moore, Leader of the Vale Council, said: "The budget survey has been designed to measure how highly Vale residents value the services that they use.

The responses we receive will help us tackle the big challenges that the Council has to face."

The budget survey, as well as more detailed information about the Vale Council's budget, is available on at www.valeofglamorgan.gov.uk/budget.

Hard copies are available on request by calling 01446 700111. The consultation will close on 31 October.

BCBC's public consultation will run until November 17. It is designed to give residents an opportunity to make their own alternative suggestions while answering a series of structured questions.

A BCBC spokesman said: "The consultation will incorporate a number of community workshops and an easy-to-use 'budget simulator' tool.

"This will enable people to demonstrate how they would go about spending the council's £255m budget, determine which services need to be prioritised and identify a savings target of £12.4m for the year."

Council Leader Mel Nott said: "This is an extremely difficult time for local government. Councils across Wales are facing unprecedented challenges in the face of reduced Government funding and increased demands on essential services.

"There are going to be some aspects of council services that the authority may no longer be able to provide, and finding different ways to meet the future needs of individuals, families and communities is not always going to be popular.

"But this is the harsh reality of the situation that we now face, and it's why we want local people to take part in this consultation, and help inform the difficult decisions that will need to be taken."

BCBC chief executive Darren Mephem added: "Setting a multi-million pound budget is not an easy task, so we'll be using a budget simulator in both the formal consultation and at community workshops to give people a better idea of what the process entails and to enrich the quality of their feedback."

People can take part in the BCBC 2015-16 budget consultation by visiting the consultation pages at the council's website - www.bridgend.gov.uk/consultation - or attending one of the following community engagement workshops (email consultation@bridgend.gov.uk to arrange your place):

Wednesday, October 29: Coleg Cymunedol Y Dderwen, 6pm.
Monday, November 3: Maesteg Comprehensive, 6pm
Tuesday, November 4: Pencoed Comprehensive, 6pm.

Conservatives attack Welsh Labour over cutbacks to Vale Council

by PHILIP IRWIN

THE Leader of the Conservatives in the Vale Council - Coun John Thomas - has criticised the Welsh Labour Government for imposing "swingeing" cuts on the council.

He also urged residents to have their say on a Vale Council-sponsored survey, or face losing key services.

He said: "The Welsh Government has slashed funding to the Vale Council by millions of pounds which will have a profound impact on the services, that matter to residents.

"It is vital that people have their say because there is little doubt that these swingeing cuts will pose significant challenges here in the Vale.

"The Welsh Government continues to waste money on pet projects like Cardiff Airport, office refurbishments and the T9. All money which could be better spent."

It was unsurprising, perhaps, that his statement contained no mention of cuts imposed by the Conservative and Lib Dem coalition Government.

More surprising was the response from Plaid Cymru, who passed up the chance to criticise the Lib-Dems or the Conservatives.

Coun Ian Johnson, who represents a Barry ward on the Vale Council, also concentrated his fire on the Welsh Labour Government.

He said: "Plaid Cymru is deeply concerned at the cuts that Welsh Government want the Vale Council to make.

"Welsh Government funding is three-quarters of the council's total budget and they are planning on making a £5.5m cut.

"Plaid Cymru is worried that we will see cutbacks in the most obvious visible services - rubbish collection, street-lighting, grass-cutting and we have already seen proposals for cuts in libraries."

He added: "These cuts are being made because Westminster does not properly fund Wales according to need, and the decision to put the City of London ahead of public services in Wales."

Chance to learn all about children's rights

YOUNG people across the Vale will have a chance to join a new project called Rights Ambassadors, which highlights children's rights.

Participants will create and deliver workshops to children, young people and professionals throughout the Vale.

The scheme is being run by the Vale Council's youth service and funded by the Vale Children and Young People's Partnership. Three introductory evenings will provide young people with full details about the project: October 21 at West House, Penarth from 5.30pm; October 22 at YMCA Hub, Barry from 4.30pm; and October 23 at Llantwit Youth Centre, Llantwit Major from 5.30pm.

END OF THE LINE FOR THE LOCAL RAILWAY SEMAPHORE SIGNALS

RAIL commuters may have noticed that railway semaphore signals have recently disappeared from the Vale of Glamorgan Line and Barry area and replaced by colour-light signals.

by BRIAN MILLS

multi-aspect LED signals at their head, some with a 'feather' to signal a path to diversion of track at junctions.

Another of the two former Barry Railway signal boxes has also been closed and is likely to be demolished now that it no longer has any control function and its 'partner' at Aberthaw was closed in 2013 after the new colour-light signalling of the Vale line to Bridgend was commissioned.

The last four at Barry were removed on June 28-29. In fact, there are only a few semaphore signals still in service on the Western Region, except where regional territory has been changed, for instance at Shrewsbury and Worcester.

This is attributed to the need to bring signalling up to state-of-the-art format. The aim is to control the whole of Wales' rail traffic from the recently installed £4.3m Wales central control centre at Canton, which is to tie in with station modernisation, track remodelling and better line capacity.

For some signal enthusiasts, sadly, the semaphore arms which gave a splash of colour to an otherwise drab railway scene of brown track versus lineside foliage, have succumbed to grey masts with single absorb the technicalities of mechanical railway signalling and accrued sufficient knowledge to eventually present slide presentations to railway staff and heritage railway members.

One of the pre-Beeching branch closures that suffered locally was the Barry-Pontypridd line via Wenvoe. Apparently, after removal of the lineside telegraph poles, one pole was overlooked and for a while stood forlornly at the top of the bank above Wenvoe tunnel bore near Rhiwau crossing.

After 1963, the line to Caerphilly from Tynnycae Junction on the Wenvoe line saw its last through coal traffic to Barry from the Rhymney valley via the Penrhos branch. When the branch closed, coal to Barry docks and Aberthaw power station had to be routed via the Caerphilly tunnel.

The line to the Dolomite establishment at Taffs Well gorge was finally worked as a long siding from Penrhos Junction (Caerphilly) end and that too succumbed along with the removal of the very impressive Taffs Well viaduct. The Llantrisant-Cowbridge line in its final years was worked as a long siding and the little semaphore signalling involved, was removed from the branch.

I felt it would be rewarding to put some of my knowledge together in book form. It has culminated in a 250-page book with over 130 colour photographs with signal assembly drawings, wiring diagrams and associated data – all written in the simplest form and showing the development of Brunel's GWR disc and crossbar signalling system of 1849, through to British Railways Western Region semaphore signalling remnants as at 2014.

My 49 years association with the Permanent Way Institution has taken up the task of publishing my book which is entitled, 'Western Region Semaphore Signalling in the 1960s and Thereafter'. Some 3,700 of my photographic records taken from 1958 are now included in Philip Toogood's TRACKEBED.COM website.

OBITUARY: Mrs Eira Evans

Oldest stalwart of 6th Barry Scout Group dies aged 97

RIGHT: Mrs Evans, as her Scouts will remember her.

MRS Eira Evans, who has died aged 97, was the last leader of the 6th Barry BP Scout Troop, reconvened in 1933, after the troop had been closed during the First World War.

It was in 1936 that Miss Eira Powell became an assistant cub mistress, and her Jungle Book name was Kaa.

Jack Evans was running the Cub Pack, as well as the Scout Troop at the time, but still had time for love to flourish.

With the outbreak of war, Jack joined the Royal Navy and The Scout troop shut down due to lack of a leader.

However, Eira continued to run the Cub pack at their weekly meetings in the Park Crescent Mission Hall, assisted by Winnie James.

In 1944, Jack and Eira were married when they moved to Glasgow, where he was based. After the 2nd World War, they returned to Barry, where they re-established the Troop.

When the family (John and Julie) came along, Eira relinquished her role as Cub mistress, but her support for Jack, who was Group Scout Master, helped to make it one of the most successful groups in the country.

She and the family spent many years after the war running the two-week summer camps, which many of the old Scouts fondly remember.

Jack became the Rev Jack Evans in 1965, serving the community of Barry and Barry Island with the ever-faithful support of Eira, up to his death in 2003.

She has been living in Bristol for the last 10 years close to her daughter.

The funeral will be held at All Saints Church, Barry, on Monday (October 20) at 2pm.

LIB DEM ADVICE

ELUNED PARROTT, Lib Dem AM for South Wales Central, will be holding an advice surgery at Tesco Superstore, Terra Nova Way, Penarth, CF64 1SA, between 1pm and 2pm on October 17.

Residents who have any issues of concern to them or their local community, are encouraged to go along – no appointment is necessary.

WELSH MINER'S LAMP SHINES LIGHT ON WAR HEROES' SACRIFICE

ON September 19, Group 617 from Penarth Pavilion and members of the Barry RAF Association attended a service in Steenberg, Holland, to commemorate the 70th anniversary of the Mosquito plane crash that cost the lives of Guy Gibson VC and his navigator James Warwick.

Air cadets from 372 (Barry) and 1148 (Penarth) Air Training Corps Squadrons laid wreaths on the graves to mark the occasion.

Wing Commander Guy Gibson won the Victoria Cross for his part in leading the famous raid on the Dams. Mike Gibson, a nephew of Guy, was present to lay his own wreath on his uncle's grave.

A service of remembrance was conducted by dignitaries of the town, which brought many Dutch people together to remember his life and the ultimate price he paid on a Pathfinder mission, where he lost his life.

The graves of Guy Gibson and James Warwick had been faithfully tended over the years and the family responsible for that selfless task thanked for their dedication.

A Welsh miner's lamp was presented to the family, for keeping the light burning over the intervening years, by Group 617 chairman, Mr Russ Kitely.

RAF Association standards from the region, Barry and Penarth were dipped in respect, as the Last Post sounded at the grave site.

Cadet Sgt Jake Paterson said after the wreath laying, that it had "left a wonderful memory of the day" and brought home the part Guy Gibson played in the Dambuster Raid, which he hoped to take with him when he joined the RAF as an officer.

Three Chinese, an artist, and an AM link up at Assembly

VALE artist Mary Husted and three special visitors from China were met at the Senedd building in Cardiff Bay by Jane Hutt, AM for the Vale.

Mary Husted is the initiating curator of the Open Books exhibition. The idea for the exhibition came from her time in Hong Kong and her fascination with folding and expanding books which artists use there.

In collaboration with other artists from Wales, Hong Kong and Australia, the Open Books exhibition opened in 2012 at the National Library of Wales. Since then the exhibition has toured China and Australia.

The AM opened the exhibition when it came to Cardiff Bay in 2013 and was 'delighted' to meet Mary and her guests last week to discuss how this successful project has grown, with plans to take it on further tours home and abroad.

The Chinese visitors were: Joe Zhu, senior art journalist at City Express, Hangzhou, Zhang Sheng, General Manager, DK Creative Culture, Hangzhou and Wang Ling, General Manager, Tea Culture Institute, Hangzhou.

THE Dinas Powys Players are now well into rehearsals for their autumn production.

A cast of young, old and new members has been assembled for the stage version of 'Allo, 'Allo,' the highly successful TV comedy series by Jeremy Lloyd and David Croft which follows the adventures of Rene, the hapless cafe owner and his wife Edith in war torn France.

The players are confident that their audiences will have an evening of fun and laughter when the show, directed by Eileen Carryer, is presented at the Parish Hall, Britway Road, Dinas Powys on November 13, 14 and 15. For tickets, telephone 02920 512868 or 02921 406168. Doors open 7pm for 7.30pm.

Oz executives on fact-finding trip

CHIEF executives from Australia visited Newydd Housing Association on Friday October 10, to take ideas back Down Under.

All three from housing associations in New South Wales, visited the former Barry Magistrates Court housing development and

THE GREAT WAR'S UNSEEN ARCHIVES

THE Great War – Unseen Archives, published by Atlantic Publishing and compiled by Robert Hamilton costs £40, and is worth every penny.

This authoritative volume illuminates a momentous period in world history whose ability to prompt impassioned debate and divide opinion continues undiminished. The author's account stands out among many others published, thanks to the sheer volume and quality of contemporary material presented-often in facsimile.

The comprehensive narrative includes: More than 1,000 photographs many of them unseen; Over 600 facsimile newspaper cuttings of headlines, articles, photographs and battle plans; a day-by-day chronology and specially drawn maps showing the theatres of war from today's perspective.

It is presented in chapters, year by year, each commencing with an overview of the forthcoming year, including an authoritative account by historian Robert Hamilton.

The major figures such as Haig, Foch, Pershing, Kitchener, Lloyd George, King George V, Hindenburg and Ludendorff naturally take centre stage.

However, the cast list in this human tragedy extends far beyond the senior commanders, to include portraits of well-known characters such as T E Lawrence, Edith Cavell and the Red Baron.

AWARDS CELEBRATE THIRD YEAR OF SUCCESS FOR CARDIFF AND VALE COLLEGE STUDENTS

CARDIFF and Vale College recently took over the Wales Millennium Centre in Cardiff Bay for its third annual awards evening.

The event attracted nearly 400 people including local business, education providers and the community and 18 students, plus the college's partner organisations, were recognised for their contribution to college life.

The evening began with music from a jazz trio – and art and design, automotive engineering and hairdressing students gave demonstrations of their work. The awards ceremony was hosted by CAVC alumni and BBC Wales presenter Jason Mohammad.

This year also saw a special gift for guests: wooden coasters made by Timber Thinkers. Set up and run by CAVC Carpentry students.

Cardiff and Vale College Principal and Chief Executive Mike James said: "The annual awards are a great reminder of the impact learning has and the opportunities it can create. It also reminds me what a privilege it is to be working in our exciting college." Winners included Eurofoods founder Shelim Hussain MBE, who won the college's Alumni award. Shelim, who established his first business while studying at the college, said he was both surprised and honoured to receive the award.

Luke Mayor, a 20-year-old electrical apprentice from Dinas Powys, won the Principal's Award for best reflecting the college's values through achievement, attitude and participation in extra-curricular activities.

Luke started off at CAVC on a school link taster course before progressing on to the full-time engineering programme, 'pathways to apprenticeship' course then an apprenticeship with employment at Scenic Services in Newport.

During his time at college, Luke has won the Welsh regional heats to Welsh final of the WorldSkills competition, and will represent the college at the UK WorldSkills finals next month. He has also won Welsh regional heat of Sparks UK's Apprentice of the Year in 2014, before going on to win Sparks UK National Apprentice of the Year.

Luke admitted that he had to be "pushed" when he first came to CAVC, but added that his tutor Geoff Shaw was an inspiration. "If it wasn't for a tutor like Geoff that can encourage a student and see their potential, then all of this would never have happened," he explained.

Another winner was 37-year-old Bismwa Gwom from Cardiff. Bismwa helped set up, and now manages, a pop-up hair and beauty salon in Ely.

Nineteen-year-old Cameron Patterson from Barry won the A Levels award. Cameron moved to Barry from China and is a fluent Mandarin speaker who helped out with the college's Chinese winter and summer schools, and when teachers from other institutions came to visit. He gained excellent GCSE and A Level results at the college and has now progressed to university.

The Creative Industries Award went to Craig Morris (36) from Cardiff. The foundation degree film student was heavily involved in the college's learning company, 'The Film Cohort', making corporate videos for Coca Cola, the Wales Millennium Centre, Winners of CAVC's 2014 annual awards, including Luke Mayor, who won the Principal's Award, with Principal and Chief Executive Mike James.

Literature Wales and others.

Angel Romao, a 17-year-old Level 2 Sport student from Cardiff, adds the CAVC Sport and Public Services Award to the bronze medal she won for artistic gymnastics earlier this year at the Commonwealth Games.

Angel combined studying and her gym work, arriving early and taking extra classes to ensure she was ahead of her studies.

The college's entrepreneurship award went to Emma Nicolaou.

The 29-year-old beauty therapy student from Barry led a team that won the UK-wide enterprise competition Market Maker 2013 with Chameleon Nails, a bespoke nail colouring service. Emma is now self-employed, running a salon on Barry High Street.

She said: "I'm very excited that I've won an award and I'm amazed by everything the college has put on for us this evening. I've very happy to have won."

"Since leaving college after my course, I set up my own business. It's now in its second week of trading. My business is in the High Street of Barry catering to ladies and gentlemen, offering all different types of beauty treatments to people in the Vale of Glamorgan."

College partner organisations UnLtd, Wales & West Utilities and Lloyds Bank were also celebrated for their innovative approach to work-based learning and efforts on behalf of the college in funding student business start-ups and supporting the

CAVC Skills Academy. Full list of winners: Cameron Patterson, A-levels; Sam Bennett, Aeronautical; Bismwa Gwom, Beauty, Hair and Holistic Therapies; Matt Hanock, Built Environment; Arron Davies, Business and IT; Craig Morris, Creative Industries; Carla Kondra, Education and Training; Mohammad Daemi, Engineering and Environment; Sion Charles, Foundation Studies; Caroline Read, Health, Social Care and Children's Care; Angel Romao, Sport and

THE 'DEDICATED FOLLOWERS OF FASHION' AT PONTYCLUN SHOW!

ON a stormy October day, PAG held a fashion show at the Athletic Club in Pontyclun to raise funds for good causes.

PAG is a not for profit company run by volunteers. The main hall was transformed by black chair covers, white bows and silver table decorations, as well as a starry sky stage background provided by Chair Covers & Bows, Coed Cae Lane, Pontyclun.

Tickets were sold out days in advance and many who came at the last minute were disappointed. At £10 for an evening of fashion, entertainment and wine, with a selection of high quality cheeses, they were a bargain. Many local people and friends from further afield filled up the hall.

Mr Chris Bolton was the compere for the evening and a number of local businesses were involved.

All the shops had model volunteers dressed in the latest fashions from bridal wear, mother of the bride and groom, casual wear and a trip down memory lane.

There was entertainment by the Shehrazat Belly dancers, Ella Morgan's cheerleaders, local vocalist Lucie-Anne Davies and for the finale Kerry Sanson had everyone on the dance floor rocking a bit of Zumba.

Local girl Sally Davies was the overall organiser on behalf of PAG and worked tirelessly for several months to bring everything together on this special evening.

Thanks also to everyone at PAG and their families (Ken, Mair, Brendan, Darren, Tom, Cecil, Lydia, Tom and Alexia) for bringing another popular event to the local community in Pontyclun.

All the money raised from the event will go to local good causes. This includes our local schools, who have already benefited from donations this year.

If you are involved in a local group or charity and are interested in receiving funds for a specific purpose or activity, please get in touch with the PAG as soon as possible. Details of beneficiaries will be posted on the PAG website (pontyclunactiongroup.webs.com).

Now everyone in Pontyclun is looking forward to the turning on of our Christmas tree and lights on December 2, our Christmas fayre with a Santa fun run and Santa procession and the St David's Day food fayre in February.

TWO VOLUNTEER GROUPS HOLD MEETINGS PRIOR TO MERGER

A SERIES of events signified the final AGMs for both Vale Centre for Voluntary Services (VCVS) and the Vale Volunteer Bureau (VVB) before the two organisations merge next April to form a new charity.

Rachel Connor, executive director (VCVS) and Alison Steere, director (VVB) reviewed the year 2013/2014 for their respective organisations, and the keynote speaker was Vale AM Jane Hutt.

She commented: "I was delighted to speak at this special AGM, which celebrated the achievements of both VCVS and VVB. Their dedicated service to the Third Sector and communities in the Vale since 1997 has been considerable.

"Being innovative and responding to new needs has been the hallmark of both organisations. I very much look forward to working with the new organisation when VCVS and VVB join forces next year."

The event concluded with inspiring real life stories from volunteers Keith Crabtree and Morgan Rogers; to view Morgan's story, readers can visit: <http://bit.ly/1rqD2Mp>

There was also a cheque presentation, courtesy of the Dish out Dosh Panel's youth-led grant scheme for grant recipients, who have been successful with youth interest projects and 11 people received their volunteer star awards – with four volunteers receiving Agored Cymru awards in 'Volunteering and Community Participation'.

A VCVS spokesman said: "Twelve Millennium Volunteer (MV) awards were given in recognition of young people's contributions to volunteering. The capacity audience was overwhelmed by the amount of commitment shown by the inspiring people aged from 16 years old who collected their awards on a truly enthralling night."

The coaches and assessors praised the pupils very highly for their friendliness, spirit and willingness to learn (a large proportion of the group had never done anything like this before). Well done to them all.

SPANISH TRIP BEFORE the summer holidays, pupils from years-9 to 11 went on a trip to Barcelona organised by the MFL department.

This was an excellent opportunity for the pupils to practice their Spanish with native speakers and also to visit some of the cities most well known sites including Port Aventura, La Ramblas, the Nou Camp (home of Barcelona FC), Parc Güell and the Sagrada Família. IT'S been all action at Maendy Young Farmers Club lately, with competitions a plenty for members! On October 6, they competed in the Glamorgan county carcass judging competition at Wern Fabian Farm, Swansea (by permission of Mr Hugh Phillips).

Competitors were required to judge four lamb or beef carcasses respectively, placing them from first to fourth, based on conformation and fat cover. Maendy members were successful as follows: Tom Rees second in under-26 beef; Heather Jarvis second in under-26 lambs; Beth Jarvis placed second in under-21 lambs and third in under-21 beef.

The next competition was quite different when Glamorgan YFC held its first eisteddfod at Neath Constitutional Club on October 12.

Maendy YFC performed in a variety of vocal competitions from solos, duets and choir to mime, musical, photography and literary pieces.

Maendy achieved excellent results across the day, with members going forward to the Wales YFC eisteddfod next month. Thanks are extended to club leader, Miss Becky Harry, for training the members and for providing piano accompaniment at the competition.

Attention now turns to the annual county stockjudging day taking place on Saturday October 25. This year's competition day will be hosted by neighbouring young farmers club, Wick. Competitors are required to judge a ring of four animals of beef, dairy, lambs or pigs.

The aim is to judge the ring of four animals, placing them in first to fourth position, based on their conformation and suitability for the modern butchering trade.

Competitors will then proceed to give their reasons in front of a judge within a two minute time constraint.

As always, new members are welcome to come along and find out what the Young Farmers Club is all about! ### NEWS FROM FONMON APIARY

Time moves on...but no one has told the bees!

THE year may well be drawing to a close but the bees show little sign of winter adjustment and all colonies are very active.

Thanks to the mild conditions still prevailing, the foragers are bringing in pollen and nectar and the Queens are still laying. This, of course, is quite contrary to recognised beekeeping practice.

To all intents and purposes, the beekeeper should have carried out Varroa treatments. Any feeding that was required will also have been completed; our bees should be forming their winter cluster and foraging should have ceased.

All of the colonies can now be left alone until spring of the following year. However, as I have made clear in previous articles, the weather is the dominant factor in the honeybees world.

Colony activity equates to the expenditure of energy – the nectar and pollen are the ingredients required to provide this energy, so although stores are being created within the hive, the daily consumption by the bees means that said stores are being consumed.

Many parks and gardens still contain plants and flowers that are a ready source of all the bees' requirements, so until we see lower temperatures (i.e. nine degrees centigrade and lower) the bees will still make trips to provide the stores they know they must have to see them through the coming winter.

Here at Fonmon, I have several colonies that are receiving liquid feed; these are colonies that swarmed and require a little assistance from the beekeeper, and as a result they have not yet had any Varroa control applied. Feeding and Varroa control do not go hand in hand; it is one or the other. In my judgement, the feeding comes first, this along with the mild weather is certainly going to help the colony get through the coming winter.

I will treat for Varroa once I consider that the bees have sufficient stores. Why this approach?

Well, without food the bees will certainly die and then, of course, I won't have a Varroa Mite problem. Remember, I still have Queens laying and new bees will be emerging and will require nourishment, the mites will, of course, be carrying out their breeding cycle along with the bees, which means their presence will have to be addressed eventually.

Decisions! Decisions! That's what faces the beekeeper and you will sometimes get it wrong.

Fonmon Apiary has colonies with several supers still in situ; they will be inspected and I will have to make a decision as what I should do.

The storing of equipment that is not required over winter also brings its own problems. The Wax Moth has had a good breeding year and if you do not store things in adequate containers, the moth will certainly take advantage and your equipment will be subject to an attack, possibly rendering it totally unusable when spring comes around.

The beekeeper must become acquainted with all of the enemies of the honeybee and hive components if he/she is to be successful.

This year has been one of our best for some time; the bees will settle and then we will anxiously await the coming spring and hope to see activity from all the overwintered colonies.

Nurse Sue gives baby advice... BY ROYAL APPOINTMENT!

WHEN

nurse Sue Jones went to Windsor Castle to receive an MBE from Prince William, little did she think she would end up giving him advice about one-year-old baby George!

The ABMU Health Board's lead nurse for school health nursing was responsible for co-ordinating the schools MMR vaccination programme during last year's measles outbreak, centred in Swansea and Neath Port Talbot.

She was awarded the MBE in the Queen's Birthday Honours List in June, along with Julie Harvey, ABMU's head of paediatric physiotherapy.

Sue said: "I went to Windsor Castle to receive it from Prince William. I was delighted. He was so lovely. We had a good chat. He asked about my work and even said, 'Perhaps you could give me some advice about getting my young son to do what he should do.'"

"I told him to treasure every moment

because George won't be a baby for very long."

Sue began her career as a student nurse in Neath General Hospital in 1972, later working on a children's ward and then qualifying as a midwife.

She became manager of the Neath Port Talbot school health nursing team in 2000 and took up her current ABMU-wide post in 2009.

When her MBE was announced, she said: "I have wonderful support from all the staff in our service and from senior colleagues throughout my career but especially in regard to raising the profile of and taking school health nursing forward.

"I feel blessed after all these years to still be able to say that I absolutely love my job and enjoy coming to work."

She was accompanied at the castle by husband Ken, son Mark – who travelled home from Luxembourg to be there – and daughter Lucy.

'Does Cardiff Airport have the correct strategy?' asks Welsh Tory leader

by GEM REPORTER

A regional Tory AM has expressed his concern after CityJet announced its plans to reduce flights on the Cardiff to Glasgow Airport route.

The decision was taken because of a lack of passengers using the service and will lead to the number of daily flights being cut from three a day to two.

However, the airline told The GEM that it was still committed to the route and that networks were always evolving.

Andrew RT Davies AM, Leader of the Welsh Conservatives, said: "This news is particularly concerning given the fact that the route was only reinstated nine months ago."

"The fact that key airlines are reducing flights on their flagship routes, is extremely worrying, and does not give the impression of a confident and vibrant airport. This latest route withdrawal begs questions about whether the strategy for growth at Wales' state-owned airport is right and whether opportunities for growth, route development and marketing are being properly explored."

But Cardiff Airport managing director Debra Barber pointed out that some CityJet operations had surpassed what the airport had hoped for. "We are continuing to work closely with CityJet who will operate flights to Paris and Edinburgh throughout the Winter season, both of which exceeded expectations during the first year of operations."

"CityJet has acknowledged Cardiff Airport as a key component in its strategy for UK regional growth and is an important partner for the airport in delivering key routes to and from Wales, with these services being essential for both inbound and outbound travel needs."

Ms Barber added: "Our priority is to return the business to its previous level of success and beyond, with ongoing discussions with our existing and potential new airlines about enhancing the number of destinations on offer."

"We want the people of Wales to be proud of their airport and for them, along with visitors to our country, to have a wonderful experience when using it."

Patrick Lukan, chief commercial officer at CityJet insisted: "Route changes such as Glasgow to Cardiff are all part of the process an airline goes through and networks are constantly evolving."

"We will maintain connections between Scotland and Wales via our Edinburgh route and will continue to serve Paris."

"Underlining the airline's commitment to the region, CityJet was recently announced as one of the sponsors for the Ospreys' 2014/15."

NOT JUST A PUB, BUT A SHOP TOO... 'Pint of beer and a loaf of bread please barman!'

THE Cross Inn, Llanblethian, which won a competition to have its entrance redesigned by TV home styling consultant Laurence Llewelyn Bowen, now has a shop – which landlord Arthur O'Leary set up with the help of one of Prince Charles's favourite projects, Pub is the Hub, and the Vale Council.

Arthur, who has been behind the bar of the 17th century pub for five years, decided to open a village shop as a service to customers after discovering that he could get financial help through Pub is the Hub.

It has been running in England for several years but was only introduced to Wales in 2012 by north Wales-based rural regeneration agency Cadwyn Clwyd who piloted it in Denbighshire, and has since rolled it out to eight counties across Wales, including the Vale of Glamorgan.

The Cross Inn was one of the first to take advantage with a small grant of £500 from the council's Creative Rural Communities scheme for a cabinet to display the shop's stock.

It is paid for through the European Agricultural Fund for Rural Development (EAFRD) through the Welsh Government's Rural Development Plan and is part of a three-year plan to revitalise rural communities and their economies.

Cadwyn Clwyd rural services officer Helen Roberts, who oversees the scheme throughout Wales, said: "This is exactly the sort of community project that Pub is the Hub is all about.

"It's so important for village communities to have focal points like schools, churches and chapels and pubs and shops too and this is a wonderful example with the pub stepping in to run a shop.

"We're also very proud that Cadwyn Clwyd, who launched the first Pub is the Hub scheme in Wales in Denbighshire, has now seen it spread to seven other areas of Wales, Flintshire, Conwy, Gwynedd, Anglesey, Ceredigion, Bridgend and Vale of Glamorgan.

Landlord Arthur O'Leary and 'Vale Pub is the Hub' co-ordinator Helen Watts at the Cross Inn, Llanblethian.

"This is a pet project of Prince Charles and one that he has been monitoring closely since it began."

Arthur said: "My father was from Cork and my mother from Bantry and in Ireland very often country pubs have a little shop attached and I thought it would be useful to do that here.

"Hopefully it's a good excuse to pop in for a pint and to see just what we do offer here in terms of a traditional welcome with good food and good beer and we're dog friendly too so you can even bring your dog into the bar and the shop even has some doggy treats to encourage pets to bring their masters in."

Helen Watts, Pub is the Hub Co-ordinator for the Vale, said: "What Arthur has done is to provide a small community shop for local people where they can pick up staples without having to go into Cowbridge and worry about parking, so it's reducing congestion as well."

New ministers Revs Carole and Phil Challis were also on hand to meet local residents and hear their points of view.

"I was delighted to join Barry Uniting Church and members of the community at the Waterfront to hear more about progress with Phase II of this exciting development and to congratulate them on all that they have achieved

Mr Cairns commented: "It was very pleasing to see such a good turnout and to hear some very forward thinking plans about future provisions for congregations to meet."

Must have book on the buses

SOUTH WALES BUSES AND COACHES REMEMBERED
by Andrew Wiltshire £17

THIS is Andrew Wiltshire's sixth volume devoted to buses and includes 80 pages of full colour photographs going back to the 1960s here in south Wales.

It features local company fleets, as well as coaches and non PRV vehicles. We also have detailed information about municipal and independent buses.

Each page has detailed text on each individual vehicle, giving date built, withdrawn and some have more information on their demise.

For the bus enthusiast this is a 'must have' book and I spent many happy hours identifying the locations here in Wales.

For myself, I would have liked an index to find buses by make and also the location of the photographs.

For the enthusiast this will make an ideal present as a new volume to add to a collection.

The earthquake in Haiti claimed over 200,000 lives. Haiti is the poorest country in the western hemisphere. Unemployment runs at 80 per cent – street traders earn just £30 a month.

Haiti is going to take 20 years to restructure. Lots of children eat food every other day.

Haiti Hospital Appeal, a charity started by two British drama students, has built a spinal care unit for people injured in the quake and they

Mr Frank McKinney is a philanthropist who lives in nearby Miami, USA. He builds houses for people who live in poverty.

He says that the Haitian people are a faith driven people and often quotes Saint Luke, who said that 'those people who had been entrusted with much – then much would be expected'.

In that spirit, the houses Mr McKinney constructs are known as Earth Ships and cost from around £7,000.

Food can even be grown in them as well, making them fully sustainable.

He said: "We build a

Sensitive Staffy Lucy Lou longs for a quiet life

LUCY LOU is a two-year old Staffy who, once she forms a bond with her owner, is a loyal dog, but is sensitive and will take time to settle in initially.

Having had lots of practice at the rehoming centre, she is now mixing quite nicely with other dogs, and could live with another calm dog in the home. Lucy Lou will suit a quiet home where she can settle in her own time, and children will need to be 14 or over.

Potential owners will need to have had experience with dogs previously, and will need to visit the centre multiple times to get to know her.

The volunteers have fallen in love with her and, like the staff, just want Lucy Lou to find her 'forever home'.

If you can offer Lucy Lou a home, please call us on 01656 725219, or pop in to Dogs Trust Bridgend. We are open 12-4pm every day except Monday.

Now Lee has his eyes on a world title...

BARRY-BORN boxer Lee Selby has taken a big step towards his dream of a world title by defeating Joel Brunker on Saturday, October 11.

He could now fight for the IBF featherweight world title against current holder, Russia's Evgeny Gradovich, who defends his title against challenger Jayson Velez in November.

Selby, who spent some time training at Barry's Jenner Park Stadium this summer, dominated the fight before the referee called a stop in the ninth round of the world title eliminator.

Coun Gwyn John, who watched the fight, said: "Lee was absolutely fantastic; what a performance. Everyone in Barry and Wales can be proud of him. He is a great ambassador for the Vale."

"I met Lee a few months ago to wish him well, and watching him tonight he showed us just how good he is. I am delighted for him, and I will be there to watch him win the world title. Good luck, Lee! Another performance like that and the title will be yours."

Hockey teams left frustrated after losses

BOTH Penarth Hockey Club sides were left with a feeling of frustration after the latest round of matches in the Davis Wood Hockey League matches, but the Second XI in particular believed that it could have been them - and not their opponents - walking away with the points.

A couple of hours after the 1st XI suffered their own 0-3 reverse against Cardiff University 'A', the seconds took to the Barry Sports Centre pitch for the first of eight seasonal fixtures against old rivals Whitchurch.

This encounter saw the Vale side taking on the second of the visitors' four sides in the De Cymru 2 division and was always going to be a tough one, even before Penarth were affected by the absence of key players, including both regular goalkeepers.

The hosts started brightly, despite the unusually late push back, but failed to take advantage of early pressure and allowed Whitchurch to remain in the game. Their profligacy was then punished midway through the half, when the visitors struck on the break and, despite several fine stops by emergency 'keeper Graeme Jones, the tide quickly turned in favour of the Cardiff side as two further goals took the interval scoreline to 0-3. The score, however, did not reflect the balance of play, with Penarth more than holding their own and keen to strike back early in the second period.

That desire was soon sated as a quick exchange of passes from deep in their own half allowed the home side to reduce the deficit as Dave Watkins fed Tom Parkinson and the frenetic forward slotted coolly home.

Penarth briefly appeared to be in the ascendancy but, once again, the inability to create chances - and a number of penalty corner 'shouts' that failed to come their way - allowed Whitchurch to resist pressure and, eventually, turn the game back their way as a mishit cross from the far left of the Penarth 'D' somehow found the back post before deflecting over the line.

Needing to find three goals to at least secure a draw that was the minimum their endeavours deserved, Penarth pushed forward through the creative James Davies and Sam Salisbury, but found that their goalmouth efforts failed to attract the good fortune being enjoyed at the opposite end.

Despite some determined defending from Zbig Sobierski, Ian Smith, Craig Llewellyn and Paul Roberts, Whitchurch literally enjoyed 'the rub of the green' as Jones was beaten three further times before the final whistle to leave the result at an unrepresentative 1-7 in favour of the visitors.

With their goal difference battered, Penarth are now at the tail-end of a three-way tie for seventh place in the division and will need to ensure full points from forthcoming games against weaker opposition.

League games continue this Saturday, with the 1st XI on the road against second-placed Hereford while the seconds travel to Treforest to take on another of the multiple Whitchurch sides.

Penarth Hockey Club always welcomes new, old and returning players, umpires, supporters, friends and helpers regardless of age and ability. Training takes place on the artificial turf at Barry Sport Centre every Wednesday, with the juniors in action between 6-7pm and seniors between 7-8pm. ## THE BARRY DARTS LEAGUE ROUND-UP

IN this week's games, the Billy Ghosts maintained their position at the top of the league with another convincing win at home to the Loungers.

Mark Driscoll hit a 180 in their 18-3 win.

Mariners 66 moved into second place with a very convincing 17-4 away win against the Tynwydd Inn.

The Runways moved into third place with a big 19-2 away win against the Hell Raisers.

The BFC Allsorts followed up their win against last year's league champions, with an impressive win over last season's runners-up. They came through to beat the Cwm Talwg 12-9.

The Poachers bounced back from last week's defeat by beating the Park Weasels 16-5 and the Wanderers had a 13-8 away victory against the Raiders.

Teams are reminded that this Friday is the annual presentation dance. Teams' prepaid tickets will be available on the door. Further tickets can be purchased for £2 each.

CAVC side impress

CARDIFF and Vale College's Rugby Academy, which is run in partnership with Cardiff Blues at the BT Cardiff Arms Park, has got off to a winning start this year with a series of impressive victories.

The CAVC Academy is rapidly on its way to becoming the largest rugby programme of any college in Wales, with the potential for 100 learners taking part. This will enable the college to field four teams.

In its first match against Cowbridge Academy, the CAVC team won a 38-5 victory, dominating the game despite being underdogs from the beginning. The CAVC Academy controlled the game with lineout and scrum giving the back line opportunity after opportunity to attack their Cowbridge counterparts.

CAVC director of rugby Martyn Fowler was asked to name a man of the match but declined. Instead, he pointed to the performance of 16-year-old Dan Watts from Dinas Powys, 18-year-old Sol Khan from Cardiff, 16-year-old Jake Thomas from Cardiff, 16-year-old Jacob La-Roche from Cardiff and the 17-year-old team skipper Joel Ringer, from Penarth, for their strong performances.

Flushed with the success of their first game, the CAVC Rugby Academy then went on to the Welsh Colleges 7's tournament at Coleg Sir Gar. Here they won three out of four games, including a 12-5 victory over Sir Gar.

Last week, the CAVC Rugby Academy – with a slightly changed team to ensure everyone gets a chance to 'earn their shirt' – played Coleg Gwent. The fixture had to be brought to a close on 45 minutes as the CAVC team reached a point difference of 50 plus, beating Coleg Gwent 66 points to 12 with 25 minutes remaining.

Outside centre 16-year-old Mike Wallis from Cardiff crossed the whitewash four times while Jake Thomas scored twice. Other try scorers included fullback Ryan Crowley who is 16 and from Cardiff, scrum half Dan Griffiths 17-year-old Cardiffian Dan Griffiths, blind-side Sol Khan and hooker Dan Watts.

"We are looking for more fixtures to ensure that we take advantage of the momentum that this young group is building," Martyn Fowler said.

Damon deputises in goal as Barry remain unbeaten

FORMER Cardiff City defender Damon Searle made his 65th appearance for Barry Town on Saturday; yet few would prove more memorable for the 42-year old player-coach.

After an eleventh-hour illness ruled out goalkeeper Dan Bradley and red tape prevented his replacement appearing, veteran centre-back Searle was forced to deputise between the sticks.

A difficult afternoon appeared in the offing, especially when opponents AFC Llwydcoed, who had won at Jenner Park last season, ruthlessly seized a second-minute lead.

However, the Town would hit back in rapid order, with striker James Dixon scoring his seventh of the season in the seventh minute to set the tone for a real rollercoaster encounter.

Resilient Searle later made an outstanding save to keep the sides on level terms, though Barry hopes of a result were dented by loss of both midfielder Ryan Dorrian and defender Ryan Evans to injury.

Sensing blood, Llwydcoed came out fighting after the break and would find fortune on their side within minutes, as a deflected effort restored their one-goal advantage.

Nonetheless, their second lead would also prove to be temporary with Rhys James restoring parity seven minutes later, to the delight of the travelling Town supporters.

In the 63rd minute, Barry fell behind for the third time in the match, makeshift netminder Searle beaten at his near-post to give the Cynon Valley outfit a 3-2 lead. The Town's endeavour however endured, with defender Lewis Cosslett, in the midst of his landmark 200th appearance, striking the crossbar from a header.

With a little over 20 minutes to play, the pendulum swung back in Barry's favour, as Llwydcoed were reduced to 10 men for an apparent blow on Dixon. James then popped up once more to score his sixth in seven games and level the scores at 3-3.

There would still be significant twists in the tale with a distraught Dixon dismissed for collecting a second yellow card.

The final word though would go to Barry's Bobby Briers, the substitute coolly converting a dramatic late penalty to win the match 4-3, after Cosslett had been held back in the area.

While Barry's injury ratio continues to be a major concern, this spirited comeback win was a massive boost for Gavin Chesterfield's side in their pursuit of a second successive promotion.

With the campaign still in its early days, the result kept the unbeaten Town on top of Welsh League Division Two, a point clear of second-placed Aberargoed Buds with a game in hand.

Barry now prepare to return home to Jenner Park, with third-placed Caldicot Town the visitors on Tuesday, October 23 (7.45pm kick-off).

Barry: Searle, Morgan, Coslett, Evans, Baldock, Saddler, James, Dorrian, Greening, Hutson, Dixon. Subs used: Richards, O' Loughlin, Briers. Sub unused: McNery.

Barry Thirds are brave but beaten

IT is a credit to any club that they field three senior men's teams on a Saturday.

Barry 3rds trooped out to face a more experienced Dinas 2nds at the Reservoir Fields. From the outset we had to settle for uncontested scrums which with hindsight probably assisted Barry.

Barry's forwards, ably assisted by the accurate kicking of Bailey, had the better of the first five minutes of play.

With powerful running by Avenant, Myers, Templeman and L. Jones (c), and back row of Morris and Cleland, they pushed Dinas back into their 22.

After an unsuccessful penalty effort, Forrester duly rewarded the forwards' efforts by converting the next chance to put the hosts 3-0 up.

The next 20 minutes saw Dinas utilise their backs to exploit overlap after overlap to score four tries in quick succession to open a considerable lead.

With a few harsh words the Barry forwards came back into the game; unfortunately as we looked to prevent the overlaps, we were too stretched in the middle and with some lightweight efforts at tackling (from forwards and backs) the visitors scored another couple of tries and conversions.

Thomas came on five minutes into the second half with fresh legs and Barry forwards again showed what they could do with ball in hand. Dinas didn't abate from their attacking intent and brought on fresh legs.

They were able to score tries at regular intervals despite Barry trying their best. With the score mounting up and the sun blazing down, Barry had one more late substitute to put on.

The scene was set for Clements to change the game and in a way he did. He provided much needed fresh impetus and go forward ball, making Dinas think. With the clock ticking down Barry had the last score after several phases ended up with Rees scoring in the right corner.

On a positive note, not one head went down in a mainly one-sided game.

The management would like to thank the supporters and all 18 players who donned the shirt.

Pumas involved in a rollercoaster game!

BARRY Inter FC and Pontprennau Pumas were involved in a rollercoaster ride of a game.

The Pumas forced us into errors which led to their first goal, which was an own goal, before we then equalised after a shot at goal was initially cleared, the rebound falling nicely to Owen who slotted it away.

They then forced a penalty, which was placed near the top corner but we came back through an equaliser by Jacob.

We conceded a further two goals ending the first half 4-2 down. In the second half the confidence returned, the missed passes and mistakes started to disappear, and our midfield engine seemed to be burning the right fuel.

Our defence took stock and held firm and our forward players drove down the wing and played some pinpoint stuff.

James slotted in a lovely goal, and then Owen netted a fine second to restore parity. We then took the lead through Eski, who finished well.

A very nervy final eight minutes ensued as they pushed for the equaliser, and defending was called for close to the end.

These young boys held firm to win 5-4 and showed the character they usually have that was sadly missing in the first half.

Team: Connor, Dan, Josh, Charlie, Aron, Sion, Lloyd, Owen, Eski, Iestyn, Jack, Jacob, James and Rory.

Camelots go top of division one

IT was the busiest week in the season so far, with all four Barry chess club teams playing and ending up with a mixed bag of results.

In division one, the Bosons were at home to the Cardiff Castles, while two days later the Camelots made the reverse trip to take on the Cardiff Monarchs. Three of our players played in both matches.

The Castles are always a tough team to play and so it proved on the night. Craig Woolcock, Steve Cunliffe and Dave Parsons all earned draws but father and son, Lee and Ashley Davis, were not so lucky, so the Bosons ended up losing by 3.5-1.5.

There was better news for our second team, the Camelots. The Monarchs were hampered when they had to make a late substitution on board one. Lee Davis, Matthew Parry and Ken Hannah all earned wins with Craig and Ashley both drawing. So all five players were undefeated and returned home with a 4-1 victory.

After four rounds of games there is a new name at the top of division one. The Camelots stand proudly at the top looking down on their opponents and hold a 1.5 point advantage over the North Cardiff Woodpushers. The Bosons share third spot with the Cardiff Castles only a further half point behind.

In division three, the Quarks earned a 3-2 victory over the Rhondra Spitfires. This result moved the Quarks out of the bottom three but they hold only a 0.5

point advantage. The victory was earned with four draws and only Chris Green managed a win.

Chris was left with a mate in one and sat there for five minutes before actually making the move. His colleagues thought he had spent so much time that either he had made a different move in error or that he couldn't see the win. But it all ended satisfactorily.

The Gambits had a difficult game away to newly-relegated Caerphilly Rooks. As seems to be the case in every Gambit game, we were outplayed on every board. There was a good win for Jason Grice on board three and Phil Jones had a typical boring draw to pick up the only points on the night.

Steve Bonotto played for a long time before succumbing and failing to record a win in division four for the first time.

Martin Ricketts held a minor advantage but failed to move his extra pawn and then left his white bishop on the same diagonal behind his king to lose with time running out for both players. The result was a 3.5-1.5 win for the Rooks.

The Gambits are in third place at the moment but this is a false position as most of the other teams have games in hand.

Bowlers' nailbiter!

SULLY Indoor Championship Team played their first game last Saturday when welcoming Newport I B C to Sully Stadium.

Newport are always a strong side and another close game was expected and Saturday's game proved to be no exception.

The game began with Sully taking an early lead and after five ends held a slender four shot advantage with three rinks up and three down.

The difference by end 10 was still a five shot lead to Sully who were now losing on four rinks but the rinks of Brian Foscolo and Martin Clarke were ahead by four shots and 16 shots respectively and Clarke's rink of John Best, Mat Gershenson and Dave Curtis were on top form with their opponents failing to pick up a single shot.

As the game continued the overall score remained close but the rinks skipped by Fred Phillips and Mat Woodcock suffered major reverses, dropping 16 shots and eight shots respectively between ends 11 and 15; fortunately Sully's other rinks collectively recovered 10 shots.

The score after 15 ends was 79-86 in favour of Newport leaving Sully still close enough to fight back and with two ends to play Sully had recovered to lead by a single shot.

The 20th end saw Sully pick up three shots over the six rinks leaving them one ahead playing the final end. The first rink to finish was Dave Snelling's rink who scored a three leaving Sully four ahead, then the rinks of McLeod and Phillips each dropped a shot reducing the lead to two, then Woodcock's rink lost a three giving Newport a one shot advantage.

The game was on a knife edge with rinks of Foscolo and Clarke remaining on the green; Foscolo's rink finished holding three shots which left Clarke's rink affording to drop one shot and with all the players from the finished rinks becoming spectators the excitement was unbearable. With Newport holding shot, Sully were desperate to stop their opponents attempting to make the two shots to win the game and were bowling lines to stop the Newport back players making the shots needed. This they achieved and although dropping the one shot, Sully were winners by just one shot, 111-110, taking 16 of the 22 points on offer.

The next game is away to Ogwr (Bridgend) on Saturday, October 18.

THE lads have enjoyed better fishing over recent months with some excellent catches of hounds and Rays from boat and shore.

The boat fishing has been very good with lots of good Blonde Ray being caught and the Viking marauders enjoyed excellent fishing for giant cod while in Norway.

On the most recent evening competition, Johnny Jones was top man with a bag that included a conger of 10lb 8oz, while Roger Green took the honours in the last match of September and Kevin Salah included six hounds from the shore in his winning weight of over 35lb earlier in the month.

There have been too many poor days though, with low winning

Local tractor run helps Macmillan

RIGHT:
Basil George with Claire Davies and Val Weaver

ON Sunday, October 5, the annual Ogmores Castle Vintage Tractor Run took place to raise money for Macmillan Cancer Support.

Around 35 tractors took to the road at 10.30am, travelling from Ogmores Village around the Vale and back to base approximately two-and-a-half hours later.

The tankard this year was presented to James Isaacs from Groesfaen, who had travelled the furthest distance to take part in the run. The organiser, Basil George, thanked everyone who made the effort to attend the run, and presented each participant with a medal.

He also thanked Robert and Angela Williams for the use of the Ogmores Castle field, Paul Hooper for the signwriting, Jeff Webb from the Aberthryn Tractor Boys for the catering and BS Supplies for the medals and trophies.

The Vintage Tractor Run raised £470, bringing the running total to £2,865 for Macmillan Cancer Support. Val Weaver and Claire Davies, fundraisers for Macmillan, thanked all those who had donated towards the local cancer support facilities.

Emphatic win for Barry Seconds

BARRY Second XV were hoping to put their disappointment of the last fortnight behind them as they travelled to Llandaff in autumnal conditions.

Coach Rhidian Scott and manager Ken Chow were able to recall Tom Lee for his first start for the 2nd XV at scrum-half. He was partnered by Rich O'Sullivan at half back, while Dominic Busuttill also returned to form a midfield partnership with Dave Williams. John Dimond was moved into the back row following the withdrawal of captain Lee Jones.

Barry attacked from the off, attempting to utilise the pace of their backs out wide. After several early opportunities were spurned, Tom Poole finally made the pressure tell as he ran over after being set up brilliantly by full-back Rhidian Mephram. Lee was unable to add the extras.

If the visitors thought this was going to be the way of things to come, they were wrong. Llandaff increased the tempo of the game, leaving the Barry forwards disorganised and the home side reduced the deficit with a penalty.

Worse was to come for the green-and-whites, as the home side dominated the contact area to turn possession over, before spreading the ball out wide to round off the move with a converted try.

With the game in the balance, coach Scott was forced to make ruthless changes at halftime, and it seemed to have paid off almost immediately when Barry were awarded a penalty in front of the posts. Lee reduced the deficit to two points.

With the away side now on the front foot, and the forwards back in the game in open play, the half-back partnership of Lee and O'Sullivan began to dictate matters, and it was no surprise when the stretched Llandaff defence were unable to stop the scrum-half touching down for his first try of the game; it was not to be his last. Lee failed with the conversion attempt.

The Barry scrum turned the screw, especially after the introduction of James Sullivan, and this gave the opportunity for the backs to shine, and it was O'Sullivan who crossed next with a strong run following forward drives from Corne, Dimond and Barclay. Lee missed the conversion.

Following more territorial domination, and some good work from the midfield of Busuttill and Williams, Lee jinked over to score his second of the match.

With the Barry line-out, following the return of Kyle Case, inch-perfect, it was only a matter of time before Lee completed his hat-trick, crashing over in the corner. O'Sullivan added the extras.

Lee's half-back partner O'Sullivan was not to be outdone, and it was him who had the final word. Barry turned over a Llandaff scrum with apparent ease, and with the try-line at his mercy, the fly-half powered through for his second try. Lee added the conversion from out wide to leave the final score 39-10 to Barry.

The management was delighted at the level of performance and commitment, especially in the second half, by the team to turn their fortunes around.

More of the same would be expected as the 2nd XV continue their league campaign at home to Llanishen this weekend, while 3rd XV host Llandaff.

Team: Mephram; Knapman, Busuttill ©, Williams, Poole; O'Sullivan, Lee; Corne, Turnbull, Heard; Flynn, Barclay; Dimond, Case, J Evans. Replacements: Sullivan, Westall, Rolfe, D Evans. Man-of-the-match: O'Sullivan.

ON AND OFF THE TURF with Brian Lee

GET HOME NOW, odds-on favourite won by half-a-length from Georgie Lad, Dark Spirit, a 6-1 chance, scored by the minimum distance – a nose – and Bullet Street won by two-and-a-quarter lengths from The Bear Trap.

Stable jockey Paul Moloney was aboard Upsanddowns and Bullet Street and Adam Wedge rode Dark Spirit.

Of Dark Spirit, Evan said: "We had loads of problems with her last season as she always seemed to be in season, but we were hoping for a clear run this time and this is a promising start. Her owner Mario Stavrou had a heart attack 10 days ago, so this win will be a tonic for him."

Get Home Now is trained by Peter Bowen at Little Newcastle in Haverfordwest and was ridden by his son Sean, who has come in for a lot of praise this season.

Evan's hat-trick LLANCARFAN'S Evan Williams, who is the leading trainer at Ludlow Racecourse, brought his total of wins there to 50 when landing a surprise 14-1 treble at the winner of the Shropshire novices' handicap chase at Worcester last week.

Well ridden by Alan Johns, The Omen scored by six lengths from the favourite Pure Poteen with the Evan Williams trained Islandmagee back in third place.

MMG prove too much for Rovers

MMG Seconds came up against Barry Rovers at Seven Avenue with only a point separating the two teams.

With players injured, away player/manager Lee Galsworthy had to call in two first team players to help fill the bench.

Barry Rovers took a deserved lead after 15 minutes when a pin point cross found their No 6 unmarked who dispatched a perfect header into the top of the net.

MMG were dealt another blow as their keeper Ross had an unfortunate clash with a Barry Rovers player that resulted in him later needing six staples in his head. He was replaced by the ever-reliable Scott Nelson who was soon called into action, tipping an effort wide of the goal.

The game changed when David Evans hit a speculative long shot that their keeper couldn't hold and went into the net to bring the scores level. MMG stepped up their efforts and they were rewarded with a free kick about 25 yards out. The resultant free kick was juggled by the hands of the away keeper before going in.

Midway through the second half Drew Burniston jinked his way past three players to unleash a fierce shot but he was being held by at least one of the Rovers defence; the penalty was duly dispatched by Evans for his hat-trick.

Paul Murphy was replaced by Rodgers and with 10 minutes left, the tireless Mason was replaced with Spears. Well done to Josh Cummings and Paul Edwards for their man of the match displays.

MMG would like to thank their sponsor BRT International for their support.

DOUBLE world record holder Maria Leijerstam from the Vale, founder of the Burn Series of multisport events, organised the recent Mini Burn weekend in Margam Park.

Here is her report:

The biggest family turn-out to any multisport adventure race in the UK made Mini Burn at Margam Park the place to be last weekend.

We had families from all over Wales, as well as from across the border.

The event comprised a 3km run, 1km kayak on double sit-on-top kayaks, a 5 or 10km mountain bike and a 2km orienteer, with some additional challenges such as climbing, so it ensured that the 140 competitors deserved a good night's sleep after a day of multisport.

Everyone who completed the course received a Mini Burn medal and goody bag.

Most competitors were there for a fun day out but competition this year was closely fought in all categories.

The 'family category' – including a junior under-10 – was won by the 'Fantastic Phillips' of Cowbridge, a father-daughter team, Nic and seven-year-old Isabel in a time of 01:39:49.

Second place went to the Bagwell family from Gwent, a mother and son team, Janet and nine-year-old Ewan, and third place went to the Mighty White Team, Rhys and nine-year-old Taylor White from Mountain Ash.

In the family category, with a junior over 10 years old and under 18, the winners were Team Jones from Bridgend in a time of 01:37:24. Team Jones was a father and son team, Alun and 13-year-old Rhys Jones.

Second place went to the other half of the Bagwell family, Andrew and 11 year old Harry, and third place went to The Gravelleu Macsimon team, 11-year-old Macsen Stockton from Penarth and Rhiannon Gravelle from Cardiff.

Sarah Mee from Swansea said: "The mini burn is a well-organised event which welcomed people to give it a go and enjoy an adventure race atmosphere."

"The climbing wall was a great addition and a great way to finish off on a 'high'. The kids are very proud of what they accomplished and have taken their participation medals into school to talk about their experience."

The Male category was won by Team Sherlock Plus, Jerney Holmes from Dinas Powys and Mark Partridge from Ealing, who just can't stop winning at our mini burn events, and the mixed category was won by Team Monty Bojangles from Bristol – Vicky Shufflebottom and Steven Springings.

The Female category was won by the Clifford Dudettes, Helen and Katie of Bristol and the Team of four by the Happy Bandits from Cardiff.

So many smiling faces crossing the Mini Burn finish line makes this event an absolute pleasure to organise and is the reason I get out of bed every morning with a spring in my step.

Before the season finishes, there is one more Burn event, at Llandaff Rowing Club on October 26. It's an adults event only and the competition is high, so for any parents who loved the mini burn, and really want to put their fitness and navigation skill to the test, it's the one to look out for.

ON AND OFF THE TURF with Brian Lee

Point-to-Point's strangest races

WE ended the first part of Point-To-Points Strangest Races with the Brunico fiasco at the Gelligaer Farmers' meeting.

However, that wasn't the only strange happenings at Llantarnam that day. For those punters who had backed the winner Wren's Trix, brilliantly ridden by Joe Price, at odds of 4-1, to finish alone in the three horse members' race, they had every reason to feel aggrieved and they complained to the stewards after it had been announced that the odds-on favourite Trumpet Player, partnered by Robert Rowse, had finished second.

What had happened was that Trumpet Player unshipped his rider at the second last fence and was remounted and did eventually finish the race.

However, the judge seeing the crowds crossing the course, assumed that there were no other finishers and was not in his stand when the horse and rider passed the winning post.

And Jockey Club rules stated that 'No horse which passes the winning post after the judge has left his stand shall be placed.'

Apparently, the judge was given a good telling off by the chief steward, John Cory. However, those who had backed

Wren's Trix to finish alone went home cursing him.

First attempt wins on second attempt

IN 1985, a horse called First Attempt won on her second attempt at the Tivyside Hunt Point-To-Point Steeplechases.

First Attempt, an eight-year-old chestnut mare owned by Mr W K Rhead, was made favourite for the men's open race but took a tumble early in the race.

Around an hour later, First Attempt, ridden by the owner's son Alan Rhead, faced the starter again when lining up for the adjacent hunts' race which she won after her solitary rival, Portfield Fair, failed to complete the course.

Later, Rhead had more to smile about when he took the maiden race on Annswell.

Stable mates' dead heat

TWO horses who used to be stable companions dead-heated for the 1984 Welsh point-to-point Grand National at the Pentyrch Hunt Steeplechases at Llantwit Major.

A few years earlier, the two horses Loch Raven and Wine Talk were both trained at the same time in Ireland by Paul Doyle.

Loch Raven was ridden by Brecon's Brian Eckley and Wine Talk by Bridgend's Paul Hamer.

Both jumped the last fence together and the judge, Howard Jones of Rudry, was unable to separate them at the winning post.

Scotch Salmon tipped the scales

A HORSE called Ferreter, owned by hunt-racing official Mrs Cynthia Higgin, finished first past the post at the 1983 South Herefordshire Hunt Steeple chases but was disqualified following a Jockey Club enquiry.

Jockey Club officials also disqualified the third, fourth, fifth and sixth horses and awarded the race to the runner-up, Scottish Salmon.

All the horses should have carried 12st 7lb but the Clerk of the Scales insisted, despite pleas from their owners and riders, on weighing out all riders at 12st. Because Scottish Salmon's rider carried 8lb overweight, thus being the only horse in the race to carry 12st 7lb or over, it was awarded the race.

Had all the horses carried the wrong weight the race would have been declared void. Point-to-point rules state that an objection to any decision of the Clerk of the Scales must be made at once.

Point-to-point season fixtures announced

THE 2014/15 point-to-point season in the Vale will kick off with the Glamorgan Hunt Steeplechases at Ystradowen on March 28.

The tricky Ystradowen course will also be the venue of the Ystrad Taf Fechan fixture on April 11 and, as usual, both meetings should attract big crowds.

The Llangeinor Hunt Point-To-Point at Dunraven Stud Farm near Pyle is another point-to-point that attracts big crowds and next year's meeting should prove no exception.

Unlike ordinary race meetings, there is a certain charm about point-to-points. The horses and riders the picturesque surroundings of the open countryside, the bookmakers, picnic hampers and trade stalls are all part of the attraction.

Racegoers can mix with owners, trainers and riders and the sport provides a good training ground for horses and riders who may eventually compete under National Hunt rules proper.

Grand National winning jockeys Hywel Davies and Carl Llewellyn, both from Wales, are just two jockeys who began their race-riding careers in point-to-points, while Wales' Norton's Coin, which won the 1990 Cheltenham Gold Cup, and three times Gold Cup winner Best Mate both graduated from the point-to-point field.

Norton's Coin in fact won his first race at a point-to-point meeting held in the Vale.

EVAN ONE WIN SHY OF HIS 50TH

De Faoithesdream, an eight-year-old brown gelding trained by Evan Williams at Llancarfan, landed the Weatherbys Thoroughbred Sales Guide Handicap Hurdle at Ffos Las on Sunday.

Evan needs just one more win at Britain's youngest racecourse to notch up his half-century at the west Wales racecourse.

Partnered by stable jockey Paul Moloney, the 9-2 chance made all of the running and was never in danger of being caught and after jumping the last hurdle was eased to win by six lengths from Taste The Wine.

ABBEYGREY WINS AGAIN

Evan Williams's Abbeygrey, a winner just five days earlier, landed the Handicap Chase at Newton Abbot last Friday.

The promising five-year-old, who was the youngest horse in the race, won by three lengths from Milosam and was ridden by Adam Wedge.

BARRY SAINTS produced an impressive team performance to beat Cardiff Northern emphatically, 15-1.

Debutant Andrew Townsend got the first superbly finding the top corner from the edge of the box leaving the keeper stranded.

Darren Townsend grabbed his first with a low finish into the bottom corner after great work by Nathan Williams. Darren grabbed another after smashing the ball home from close range. Nathan Williams then grabbed a goal when he was picked out after a powerful run he blasted the ball home. Joe Matthews clinched a goal after drifting in from the left wing and converting his chance easily.

Darren Townsend added another with a tap in for his hattrick and Andrew Townsend added his second, dancing around four Northern players and hitting a thunderbolt of a shot leaving the keeper with no chance.

Ashley Ashill bagged two from the right wing after leaving his marker for dead both times. Michael Evans was brought on and instantly got in on the action hitting an unstoppable shot from the edge of the box which struck the underside of the bar before crossing the line.

Evans grabbed a second with a low long range effort finding the bottom corner. Darren Townsend grabbed another with a header lobbing the keeper. Michael Evans completed his hattrick from the penalty spot after he was fouled.

Darren Townsend wrapped up the game to secure his double hattrick with a delicate touch volleying home after a superb cross by Evans.

Atoms' close encounter

BARRY Atoms went away to face Pentyrch, and the tempo was high the tackling ferocious and the commitment shown by both sides could not be faulted.

Pentyrch started off slipping a tackle, running down the wing and scoring a pacy try, which they converted. Barry came back through some fine offloading, being taken up by Harry resulting in a fine try. Pentyrch then gained ground and scored, converting yet again.

The scrum wasn't always working but when they got it together progression was assured. We were pegged back almost at our try line; the ball was shifted quickly into Rory's hands and he ran more or less the length of the pitch scoring a marvelous try.

Then in the dying minute of the game Pentyrch made an error which was intercepted by Harry who then slipped his man and ran in a great match-winning try, the final score 15-14.

This game had the lot, blood sweat and tears, moments of solo brilliance, and glaring mistakes; yet the boys showed their mettle and ground out this result.

The team spirit shown by these boys when the chips are down was superb; man of the match went to Jack L.

Barry RFC in nine-try romp against Canton

BARRY RFC continued their recent good form in winning the latest league game against Canton at home last Saturday.

Opting once again to play a fast attacking game, Barry gave notice of what they are capable of with a fine early attack between backs and forwards that should have resulted in a try, but the chance wasn't taken.

Despite their obvious advantage up front and behind it was to take nearly 20 minutes before the first score came from a Scott penalty.

This seemed to be the spark that Barry needed, and with some fine movement behind the scrum it was not long before Adams crossed after a five man move, with Scott adding the extras. Two more tries were scored in the following five minutes by Perry and White, both converted by Scott.

The visitors at this stage had no answer to the power and pace of the home side and with minutes of the half to go were to concede another try from a driving lineout scored by Evans; again Scott was successful to give Barry a 29 point lead and a bonus point.

Williams joined the fray following an injury to Scott as the second period began. Canton, to their credit, began to get some good possession from which they tried to pressurise the Barry eight, but despite their endeavours were unable to breach the stubborn home defence.

The loss of a player to the bin didn't help their cause as from the resultant penalty, taken quickly, Perry made the break with Hadfield on hand to take the final pass to open the second half scoring.

Lundy replaced the injured Vidal as Barry regained the initiative and following a break from White, assisted by Adams, Provis took the final pass to score with the conversion from Scott being successful.

Canton threw caution to the wind at this stage and after enjoying some good possession finally breached the home defence with a well taken try.

The game had become more open at this stage as Buckland replaced Adams, with chances to score at both ends being missed. However the home side added a further try as Scott took on the defence and crossed near the posts to make the conversion a formality.

This score somehow caused Barry to lose their concentration for a time and they paid the penalty by conceding two quick tries to the visitors, who were intent on going down fighting.

This rude awakening brought Barry to their senses, and after backs and forwards had driven towards the line, the ball came to Hollister who stormed over the line from some distance to give Scott an easy conversion.

The final minutes ticked by with Barry in command and attacking from all areas with White particularly unlucky after a well created break.

With the pressure still being applied it was not surprising when after a strike against the head the resultant space gave Perry the final score of the game to give the home side a comprehensive 60-15 win which keeps them joint top of the league.

With four sides equal at the top of the table including Llantwit Major, who Barry face away this weekend, every win is vital as are the bonus points.

However what is not in doubt is that the players are fully committed and offering some exciting and entertaining rugby to the watching supporters. AJ

SPORTS RUN OUT WINNERS

SULLY Sports faced Tongwynlais on Saturday.

Tongwynlais broke out and scored an easy penalty. Sports were squandering chances and missing opportunities, however Jody Velda, Ben Such and Jamie Griffiths ensured the visitors went away learning a thing or two at scrumage time, backed by the rest of the forwards.

Jake Williams was on song with the boot ensuring conversions and penalties kept Sports in the game. A penalty try and another well rounded try from Matt Phillips showed that the players are enjoying the new-found freedom of playing under the watchful eye of coach Gareth Ivory. Dai Harris kept players on their toes and Rhys Manford rallied the forwards to command the breakdown.

Both sides made substitutions, but the game carried on much the same, both sides making mistakes, but also showing why all games are tough in this league.

More onslaughts from man of match Harry Moyle, backed up by his team, ensured pressure was repaid as Sports continued to score, gaining the bonus point they so deserved, running out winners 29-22.

Sports are currently in second place in the league, and travel to Ferndale this weekend; all support welcome.

Things are looking up on and off the field, but this is testament to all the players' hard work causing headaches in selection.

Dinas Powys earn deserved point against Chepstow

DINAS POWYS finally got something from a game that their improved form of late deserved and they more than matched Chepstow in all departments; but for a good save from their keeper Wesson, Dinas might have taken all three points, the final score 1-1.

The game commenced in pouring rain and a strong wind which continued throughout the first half. The visitors soon got into their passing game well and a strong run by striker Ben Ah-Mun looked promising but he was dispossessed before he could get a shot away.

At the other end a deep cross by McCarthy found the head of Dunn but Dinas keeper James Curtin saved his effort at the expense of a corner which was taken short, Prangley feeding Lama but his shot sailed over the bar.

Dinas came close to opening the scoring, Ah-Mun crossing for Atif Bashir to send a header crashing off the post. However they kept the pressure on and, from a Nicky Bruce corner, Ah-Mun headed high into the net to give Dinas the lead on 10 minutes.

Chepstow began to press for the equaliser. Peel squared the ball to Wigsoe but his effort was well wide and after a further spell of possession Ross got a shot away, but again it was off target.

After a good run by Ah-Mun ended when he was fouled on the edge of the box, Nicky Bruce put in a good delivery but no-one managed to get a touch and it ran out for a goal kick.

Rhodri Foote was having a great game for Dinas, probing and playing good balls to feet for the front pairing of Ah-Mun and the skilful young striker King Junior Mwedo.

Late in the half Dinas keeper Curtin needed some treatment after he made a brave save from a corner. This resulted in three further corners in the last two minutes before the last one went out for a goal kick and Dinas retained their lead into the interval.

Clear blue sky greeted the players as they came out for the second half. Chepstow had the first half chance when Ross headed wide from a free

There was some lovely build-up play at times for Dinas, with Bruce, Keiron James, Bashir, Ryan Garland, Joe Briscoe, Mwedo and Ah-Mun all prominent and from one of these, Mwedo twisted and turned his marker to get a good cross in for Ah-Mun to chest down but he was tackled before he could turn and shoot. Mwedo's skills then earned Dinas a corner but again the final touch was missing.

The hosts then began to press again but the Dinas central pairing of James Bloxham and James Marr don't miss much in the air and looked in control most of the time. However Chepstow did level the scores when a looping header by Prangley was just too high for Curtin who got fingertips to it but couldn't prevent it going in with 25 minutes remaining.

This only made Dinas more determined and excellent work down the left ended when Mwedo appeared to be chopped down in possession but the referee waved play on.

Most of Chepstow's attacks were down the left wing with the occasional switch to the right and from one of these Dunn hit a hard low shot but it was well wide.

With 10 minutes remaining, Dinas introduced fresh legs, Foote being replaced by Jasper Morgan for his first game at this level.

Ryan collects his Welsh cap

RYAN GARLAND received his Welsh cap for the Welsh LD national team pitchside Friday night at the Wales v Bosnia game.

Ryan's first appearance for the Wales LD squad was back in November 2013, when he played against Northern Ireland in Belfast.

He has since made five further appearances for his country, playing against Northern Ireland on two further occasions, Scotland, Republic of Ireland and England, scoring six goals in his six appearances.

In April, Ryan captained his country in Ireland, winning the tournament that featured Scotland, Republic of Ireland and Northern Ireland. Ryan recently played against England, drawing 3-3, and was named man of the match.

In recent years Ryan has broken into the Dinas Powys FC first team, which plays in the Welsh League. He is a valued member of the team having played for Dinas since the age of seven.

Everyone at Dinas is very proud of young Ryan, who is great ambassador for the Vale club. LS
